Integral Development Alexander Schieffer, Ronnie Lessem, 2016-05-23 Alexander Schieffer and Ronnie Lessem introduce a groundbreaking development framework and process to address the most burning issues that humanity faces While conventional top down outside in development has reached a cul de sac a new integral form of development is emerging around the world Integral Development uniquely articulates this emergent approach and invites us to fully participate in this process The integral approach has been researched and framed over decades of in depth experience in transformative development education and practice all over the world It uniquely combines four mutually reinforcing perspectives nature and community culture and spirituality science systems and technology and enterprise and economics Conventional development theory and practice has prioritized the latter two perspectives neglecting the former two This has caused massive imbalances in today s world The four interconnected perspectives allow for a transformative and integrated engagement with core development issues in a way that is locally relevant and globally resonant Throughout the practical impact of Integral Development is brought to life through highly innovative cases from around the globe drawing on the authors first hand experience This makes the book a living demonstration of the power of this pioneering approach Integral Development shows how individual organizational and societal developments need to be interconnected to release a society s full potential It shifts the responsibility for large scale development from often distant experts and organizations to each individual community enterprise and institution within the society It is essential reading and a call to action for everyone concerned with the current state of local and global development

The New Domestic Automakers in the United States and Canada A.J. Jacobs, 2015-12-16 Over the past forty years state provincial and local governments in the United States and Canada have provided foreign automakers with approximately 4 80 billion in incentives in order to lure light vehicles assembly plants to their areas This has included tax abatements infrastructure construction land giveaways job training programs and other subsidies As of early 2015 ten foreign vehicle makers operated 20 light vehicles in developed North America Despite the fact that all ten of these automakers have pursued a similar pattern first exporting vehicles into the United States and Canada before launching vehicle plants in developed North America each has followed its own specific historical development path and has created its own unique growth trajectory This book provides a unique historical and qualitative review of these ten vehicle makers from their early beginnings to their export entry into the United States and or Canada through early 2015 In addition it chronicles the histories of more than a dozen former automakers and potential future foreign light motor vehicle assembly plants in the United States and Canada This includes the first foreign automaker to build its cars in the United States De Dion Bouton of France in July 1900 the early 20th Century endeavors of Fiat Mercedes and Rolls Royce and the present day hopes of Chinese and Indian automakers In the process the text also provides an assessment of the top competing states and sites for any future plants the possible incentives packages governments may offer to attract such facilities and an estimated incentive value for each automaker Overall the goal of this book is to expand the knowledge of policymakers at all tiers of government in the United States and Canada and to help them take a more holistic look at the pros and cons of attracting Automobile Manufacturing FDI It is hoped that this will enable them to make more informed decisions when pursuing a new foreign motor vehicle assembly plant Its findings should also prove informative to urban and regional planning political science sociology economics labor and international development scholars and students in North America and worldwide

Media in Postapartheid South Africa Sean Jacobs, 2019-03-11 A study of mass media in twenty first century South Africa offering revelations about the nature of citizenship and public engagement in our media saturated age Daniel R Magaziner author of The Law and the Prophets Black Consciousness in South Africa 1968 1977 In Media in Postapartheid South Africa Sean Jacobs turns to media politics and the consumption of media as a way to understand recent political developments in South Africa and their relations with the African continent and the world Jacobs looks at how mass media define the physical and human geography of the society and what it means for comprehending changing notions of citizenship in postapartheid South Africa Jacobs claims that the media have unprecedented control over the distribution of public goods rights claims and South Africa's integration into the global political economy in ways that were impossible under the state controlled media that dominated the apartheid years Jacobs takes a probing look at television commercials and the representation of South Africans reality television shows and South African continental expansion soap operas and postapartheid identity politics and the internet as a space for reassertions and reconfigurations of identity As South Africa becomes more integrated into the global economy Jacobs argues that local media have more weight in shaping how consumers view these products in unexpected and consequential ways
