Mark D. Shermis, Jill C. Burstein, 2003-01-30 This new volume is the first to focus entirely on automated essay scoring and evaluation. It is intended to provide a comprehensive overview of the evolution and state of the art of automated essay scoring and evaluation technology across several disciplines including education testing and measurement, cognitive science, computer science, and computational linguistics. The development of this technology has led to many questions and concerns. Automated Essay Scoring attempts to address some of these questions including: How can automated scoring and evaluation supplement classroom instruction? How does the technology actually work? Can it improve students' writing? How reliable is the technology? How can these computing methods be used to develop evaluation tools? What are the state-of-the-art essay evaluation technologies and automated scoring systems? Divided into four parts, the first part reviews the teaching of writing and how computers can contribute to it. Part II analyzes actual automated essay scorers including e-rater™, Intellimetric, and the Intelligent Essay Assessor. The third part analyzes related psychometric issues, and the final part reviews innovations in the field. This book is ideal for researchers and advanced students interested in automated essay scoring from the fields of testing and measurement, education, cognitive science, language, and computational linguistics. Music in New Jersey, 1655-1860 Charles H. Kaufman, 1981 Employs nearly 4,000 names of music teachers, performers, instrument makers, and tradesmen who contributed to the musical upbringing of one of our nation's earliest settled regions. Also includes a study of sacred and secular music, concert life, music education, publications, and the music trades in New Jersey in this period.

Murder and Its Consequences Leigh B. Bienen, 2010-08-31 Resource added for the Psychology includes Sociology 108091 courses. Four by Four Joyce Armstrong Carroll, Edward E. Wilson, New Jersey Writing Project, 2012-02-23 Geared toward English and social studies teachers as well as school librarians, this book provides a clear and concise way to approach the teaching of persuasive writing and to develop the skills students need to excel on high-stakes tests as well. In Four by Four: Practical Methods for Writing Persuasively, well-known authors and teachers of writing, Joyce Armstrong Carroll and Edward E. Wilson provide a practical guide to teaching students how to write persuasively. Organized in four chapters, each containing four sections, the text opens with a history of rhetoric that serves as a logical preface to the persuasive writing basics, guides, and patterns presented in the remainder of the book. It covers topics such as the Carroll-Wilson Inquiry Schemata as a data collection technique for persuasive writing, planning and organizing a persuasive paper, strategies for efficient editing and writing the conclusion. Appropriate for educators who work with fourth grade through college-level students in English and social studies, this guidebook spotlights the research process, a 21st-century skill that teachers should teach collaboratively with their school librarians. Media-Related Out-of-School Contact with English in Germany and Switzerland Maleika Krüger, 2023-08-22 This open access book aims to close a critical research gap in understanding how frequently German-speaking adolescents come into contact with the English language through various media channels such as television, books, or the internet, and how this contact influences learners' English competences. In addition, this research project explores the effect of family background and gender on this contact The analysis shows frequent contact with English language media content by young learners in Germany and Switzerland More frequent contact was associated with higher language competences Differences could be found in the preferences of media content and type of media channels due to socio economic family background and gender
