June 24-26 2009 at the University of the Saarland and the German research Center for Artificial Intelligence in Saarbrücken, Germany. In addition to reviewed submissions, the program also included contributions to the doctoral symposium held during NLDB 2009 as well as two invited talks. These talks covered some of the currently hot topics in the use of natural language for accessing information systems. We received 51 submissions as regular papers for the main conference, 2 extra submissions as posters, and 3 short papers for the doctoral symposium. Each paper for the main conference was assigned four reviewers, taking into account preferences expressed by the Program Committee members as much as possible. Within the review deadline, we received at least three reviews for almost all submissions. After the review deadline, the Conference Organizing Committee members and the Program Committee Chair acted as meta-reviewers. This task included studying the reviews and the papers, especially those whose assessment made them borderline cases, and discussing conflicting opinions and their impact on the assessment of individual papers. Finally, the meta-reviewers wrote additional reviews for the few papers which received less than three reviews, as well as for papers which received reviews with considerably conflicting assessments.

DeGross, 2010-05-09 This book represents the compilation of papers presented at the IFIP Working Group 8.2 conference entitled Information Technology in the Service Economy Challenges and Possibilities for the 21st Century. The conference took place at Ryerson University Toronto Canada on August 10-13, 2008. Participation in the conference spanned the continents from Asia to Europe with paper submissions global in focus as well. Conference submissions included completed research papers and research in progress reports. Papers submitted to the conference went through a double blind review process in which the program co-chairs, an associate editor, and reviewers provided assessments and recommendations. The editorial efforts of the associate editors and reviewers in this process were outstanding. To foster high quality research publications in this field of study, authors of accepted papers were then invited to revise and resubmit their work. Through this rigorous review and revision process, 12 completed research papers and 11 research in progress reports were accepted for presentation and publication. Paper workshop sessions were also established to provide authors of emergent work an opportunity to receive feedback from the IFIP 8.2 community. Abstracts of these new projects are included in this volume. Four panels were presented at the conference to provide discussion forums for the varied aspects of IT service and globalization. Panel abstracts are also included here. Mengoptimalkan Koneksi Handphone ke Komputer R.W. Serviati, Multimedia Forensics Husrev Taha Sencar, Luisa Verdoliva, Nasir Memon, 2022-04-02 This book is open access. Media forensics has never been more relevant to societal life. Not only media content represents an ever increasing share of the data traveling on the net and the preferred communications means for most users, it has also become an integral part of most innovative applications in the digital information ecosystem that serves various sectors of society from the entertainment to journalism to politics. Undoubtedly, the advances in deep learning and computational imaging contributed significantly to this outcome. The underlying technologies that drive this trend, however, also pose a profound challenge in establishing trust in what we see, hear, and read and make media content the preferred target of malicious attacks. In this new threat landscape powered by innovative imaging technologies and sophisticated tools based on autoencoders and generative adversarial networks, this book fills an important gap. It presents a comprehensive review of state-of-the-art forensics capabilities that relate to media attribution, integrity, and authenticity verification and counter forensics. Its content is developed to provide practitioners, researchers, photo and video enthusiasts, and students a holistic view of the field.
