Creative Nonfiction Assignment

Creative Nonfiction is a genre that encompasses the personal essay, the journalistic essay, and memoir. You are unlimited in your choice of topics, subjects and form. Here is a list of writing exercises that you may find will lead quite naturally to a piece that you love, one that you will turn in to complete Assignment #1.

- A. Postcard Sketch: This is a travel essay in which you attempt to capture the mood and feel of a place—a city or a particular region. Imagine that you are writing several short impressions of this place in “snapshots.” Label each snapshot I, II, III, IV, V, etc. Each section should be able to stand alone, but when placed in order, they should add up to an overall impression of a city/place.
- B. Second Person: Write about a distinct memory in the second person voice. Tell the whole story in the second person. “You are digging a hole next to the apricot tree, your fingernails crusted with dry dirt, your bare toes wiggling in dust.” Second person point of view allows you to keep an emotional distance that might lead you to recall surprising details.
- C. Write a tradition essay, in the style of Montaigne, in which you meditate on a subject such as “On Lying” or “On Smells” or “On Dogs” or “On Hatred” or “In Defense of Smoking” or “Against Happiness.” Don’t be afraid to use the traditional form but to write on an absurd topic or contemplate the ridiculous.
- D. Photographs of You: Take 3 photographs from your childhood in which you appear. This essay will be written in 3 sections, one for each photo. Each section of your essay will begin with an artful description of that photograph. After writing a description, let your mind wander and go where it pleases, as long as you stay focused on that time of your life. Your finished essay should be a portrait of your childhood.
- E. Tell a story about a traumatic moment from your life. Begin directly in the action and use the present tense to tell your story, as if it were happening at this moment. Do not give background information but let the details of the story reveal to the readers the situation and context.
- F. Go to a place that you would never, under normal circumstances, go to willingly. For example, if you hate shopping, go to a crowded mall. Or if children annoy you, go to a busy park and sit with the parents. Sit on a bench and observe what you see. Your essay will be series of sketches that, if done correctly, will reveal to you why you feel such an aversion to that place.

Empowering the Voice of the Teacher Researcher Roger Neilson Brindley,Christine M. Crocco,2010-11-16 Empowering the Voice of the Teacher Researcher through a Culture of Inquiry is essentially a description of one school s initiatives to use collaborative communities and action research to empower teacher research and a culture of collective inquiry It is written by teachers primarily for teachers and teacher educators Of course none of the initiatives described in the text would be possible without the visionary leadership of school and district administrators Because administrative support is foundational to the process school and district administrators and staff developers will also be interested in reading about how this school s principal and assistant principal set the stage for developing their community of learners There are many sound action research texts on the market This text is apart by its first person accounts of teachers experiences with action research as examples of profound possibilities for professional growth As such this book written by teachers for other teachers and then contextualized by the Editors so that the relevance is clear to a broader audience fills an important niche in the literature

The Better Writing Breakthrough Eleanor Dougherty,Laura Billings,Terry Roberts,2016-03-04 Every teacher knows the challenge of trying to engage reluctant readers and struggling writers students whose typical response to a writing prompt is a few sentence fragments scribbled on a sheet of paper followed by an elaborate shrug of the shoulders The best way to engage less confident readers and writers is to give them something powerful to think about The Discourse and Writing Cycle explores writing as a means to focus student thinking fuel deeper learning and build complex understanding in English social studies math and science This field tested approach from well respected experts Eleanor Dougherty Laura Billings and Terry Roberts is designed for use in grades 4 12 The book explores the three interrelated sequences of the cycle the Discourse Sequence the Transition to Writing Sequence and the Writing Sequence and includes classroom examples and sample lesson plans from across the content areas The cycle will inspire you as a teacher and help you to inspire your students to write with confidence and competence How often we dim or extinguish the creative sparks that can come from good writing William Butler Yeats proclaimed that Education is not the filling of a pail but the lighting of a fire This book lights the fire for the teaching of writing John Hattie author of the Visible Learning books

Talking through Reading and Writing Daniel Rose,Christine Walsh,2020-11-11 In this book you will read many examples of rich literacy conversations between a teacher and his 8th grade students that never would have occurred face to face in the classroom These conversations take place online when 8th graders write to their teacher about the books they re interested in reading and choosing to read independently Students write about what happens when they read or don't read how they feel about reading how they're connecting with characters and ideas why they don't have enough time to read and what their reading goals are And their teacher writes back to them Every week After each conversation you will read some meta talk that shines a light on what the conversation has taught us about this language learner and how this data is informing our beliefs and practices Embedded within the chapters are suggested resources articles book recommendations links websites blogs etc you can follow should you want to read more in that chapter What these students reveal about their own literacy development their successes their challenges their lives and how their teacher nudges them along socially emotionally and academically teach us the value and power of one practical authentic literacy tool the Reading Conversation Journal
