

1. Circle the element with the largest atomic radius and put a square around the element with the smallest atomic radius:

Cu K Ni Br

- a. Explain why you made these choices: All of the elements are in the same period. The trend in atomic radius as you go across a period is DECREASING. Therefore, the element on the far left (K) is the largest, and the element on the far right (Br) is the smallest.

2. Circle the element with the highest ionization energy and put a square around the element with the lowest ionization energy:

Cu K Ni Br

- a. Explain why you made these choices: All of the elements are in the same period. The trend in ionization energy as you go across a period is INCREASING. Therefore, the element on the far left (K) has the lowest ionization energy, and the element on the far right (Br) has the highest ionization energy.

3. Circle the element with the highest electronegativity and put a square around the element with the lowest electronegativity:

Cu K Ni Br

- a. Explain why you made these choices: All of the elements are in the same period. The trend in electronegativity as you go across a period is INCREASING. Therefore, the element on the far left (K) has the lowest electronegativity, and the element on the far right (Br) has the highest electronegativity.

Creating the Global Classroom Laurence Peters, 2022-03-10 The book examines how to begin to think like a global educator first by examining how our own histories and experiences have formed our own cultural and professional identities and second how the varied frames by which global education can be understood pedagogical ideological and cosmopolitan have shaped the field Laurence Peters connects theory and practice about global education relevant to cultivating global awareness in primary and secondary students Rather than seeing global education as a special field separate from the other disciplines the author encourages integration of global perspectives into everything we do Showcasing how global awareness is a developmental issue dependent upon the student's ability to step outside of their own place based comfort zone this volume lays out a roadmap of major challenges and issues around instilling this awareness in students This book connects theory and practice about global education relevant to cultivating global awareness in primary and secondary students From this foundation the book engages with the challenge of integrating global perspectives within a crowded curriculum By convincing students and teachers alike of global education's centrality thinking globally becomes an integral component of learning across subject areas and grade levels and this work encourages students to exercise empathy for the other and to develop critical skills to see through media distortions and fake news so they can better resist the tendency of politicians in our increasingly multicultural countries to divide people along racial and ethnic lines
