Discourse and Style Dan Shen,2024-12-02 This book examines overlaps differences and complementarities between narratology and stylistics and shows the consequences of this examination for the practical analysis of prose narrative Narratology identifies discourse as one of its two main objects of study story being the other and stylistics of course designates style as its concern Too often however work in each of these fields proceeds without attention to developments in the other This book corrects that situation by looking beneath the superficial similarities between the discourse of narratology and the style of fictional stylistics The author shows that the two seemingly interchangeable terms actually refer to different textual elements For example both narratology and stylistics identify point of view as an important element of discourse and style respectively but each approach conceives of it differently and thus analyzes it differently This book argues that the different analyses are complementary and shows how they can be brought together This synthesis leads to richer conceptions of point of view as well as more comprehensive and precise analyses of its functions and effects in individual narratives For its theoretical and interpretive contributions this book will appeal to scholars and students in narrative studies literary stylistics and literary theory and criticism

Indigenous Language Politics in the Schoolroom Mneesha Gellman,2022-11-01 Public school classrooms around the world have the power to shape and transform youth culture and identity In this book Mneesha Gellman examines how Indigenous high school students resist assimilation and assert their identities through access to Indigenous language classes in public schools Drawing on ethnographic accounts qualitative interviews focus groups and surveys Gellman s fieldwork examines and compares the experiences of students in Yurok language courses in Northern California and Zapotec courses in Oaxaca Mexico She contends that this access to Indigenous language instruction in secondary schooling serves as an arena for Indigenous students to develop their sense of identity and agency and provides them tools and strategies for civic social and political participation sometimes in unexpected ways Showcasing young people s voices and those of their teachers and community members in the fight for culturally relevant curricula and educational success Gellman demonstrates how the Indigenous language classroom enables students to understand articulate and resist the systemic erasure and destruction of their culture embedded in state agendas and educational curricula Access to Indigenous language education she shows has positive effects not only for Indigenous students but for their non Indigenous peers as well enabling them to become allies in the struggle for Indigenous cultural survival Through collaborative methodology that engages in research with not on Indigenous communities Indigenous Language Politics in the Schoolroom explores what it means to be young Indigenous and working for social change in the twenty first century

Displaced Memories M. Edurne Portela,2009 Displaced Memories analyzes the representation of traumatic memories political imprisonment torture survival and exile in the literary works of Alicia Kozameh Alicia Partnoy and Nora Strejilevich survivors of Argentina s Dirty War 1976 1983 Beginning with an examination of the history of Argentina s last dictatorship the conditions that led the authors to exile and the contexts in which the texts were published Portela provides the theoretical tools for the understanding of narratives of trauma and displacement caused by political violence The author proposes a theory that critiques post structuralist paradigms of trauma which present trauma as an unclaimed experience impossible to apprehend as she argues for an analysis of the symbolic uses of language presenting trauma as a claimed experience that can be brought into representation and therefore create the conditions of possibility for working through

Humour in Audiovisual Translation Margherita Dore,2019-12-06 This book offers a comprehensive account of the audiovisual translation AVT of humour bringing together insights from translation studies and humour studies to outline the key theories underpinning this growing area of study and their applications to case studies from television and film The volume outlines the ways in which the myriad linguistic manifestations and functions of humour make it difficult for scholars to provide a unified definition for it an issue made more complex in the transfer of humour to audiovisual works and their translations as well as their ongoing changes in technology

Dore brings together relevant theories from both translation studies and humour studies toward advancing research in both disciplines Each chapter explores a key dimension of humour as it unfolds in AVT offering brief theoretical discussions of wordplay culture specific references and captioning in AVT as applied to case studies from Modern Family A dedicated chapter to audio description which allows the visually impaired or blind to assess a film s non verbal content using examples from the 2017 film the Big Sick outlines existing research to date on this under explored line of research and opens avenues for future study within the audiovisual translation of humour This book is key reading for students and scholars in translation studies and humour studies Oncology Clinical Trials William Kevin Kelly,Susan Halabi,2018-03-28 The second edition of families the language and culture of public education are confusing and intimidating creating barriers that prevent meaningful and supportive collaboration This can be especially true for both the parents of students who struggle and the parents of students who are high achievers But it doesn t have to be that way Schools should be a place where parents feel welcomed and a place where rules and practices are translated into language that parents can understand and relate to Ultimately schools should be a place where parents are provided the information they need to support and advocate for their
