encounters between cultures have multiplied at a rate that no individual can follow or control The present book constitutes a space of memory in its own right one of its chief reasons d tre being that a group of diverse scholars herein maps certain key encounters between peoples past as well as present and the urgent issues generated in consequence No one person could have traced such diversity and made sense of it whereas a scholarly grouping of persons reporting on phenomena from around the world such as is provided here offers its readers a vision of global change and development With the twentieth and twenty first centuries a new set of mega cities in Asia Africa and Latin America has emerged to challenge the primacy of European and North American metropolitan centres This expanded landscape is here interpreted with special attention as already mentioned to cities located at coastlines hence generally speaking more exposed to globalizing trends Migrants exiles and refugees ethnic and racial minorities as well as alternative or countercultural groupings continue to complicate the ways in which cities articulate their now pluralized identities in terms of and by means of literature history architecture social events and other forms of artistic and cultural production The international scholars whose work is assembled in these pages are well placed to engage with the intersecting themes and issues of the volume Contributors have mapped different examples from Homeric narrative through Renaissance drama and its representation of crossways of culture such as Rhodes and Malta to an earlier time in the development of a New World city such as Boston others look at the twentieth and twenty first centuries complexity of great world cities and of oceanic migration or trade between them Shanghai Singapore London Detroit Shantou Macau and Saigon are some that are dealt with in detail Emphasis falls on both the historical reality of those contexts as well as how they have been culturally represented

Returns of War Long T. Bui, 2018-11-06 The legacy and memory of wartime South Vietnam through the eyes of Vietnamese refugees In 1975 South Vietnam fell to communism marking a stunning conclusion to the Vietnam War Although this former ally of the United States has vanished from the world map Long T Bui maintains that its memory endures for refugees with a strong attachment to this ghost country Blending ethnography with oral history archival research and cultural analysis Returns of War considers Returns of War argues that Vietnamization as Richard Nixon termed it in 1969 and the end of South Vietnam signals more than an example of flawed American military strategy but a larger allegory of power providing cover for U S imperial losses while denoting the inability of the South Vietnamese and other colonized nations to become independent modern liberal subjects Bui argues that the collapse of South Vietnam under Vietnamization complicates the already difficult memory of the Vietnam War pushing for a critical understanding of South Vietnamese agency beyond their status as the war s ultimate losers Examining the lasting impact of Cold War military policy and culture upon the Vietnamized afterlife of war this book weaves questions of national identity sovereignty and self determination to consider the generative possibilities of theorizing South Vietnam as an incomplete ongoing search for political and personal freedom

The American War in Viet Nam Susan Lyn Eastman, 2024-01-12 We have been waiting for a book on war and memory about the American War in Vietnam both about the Americans and the Vietnamese in the new century of the Desert Wars of Afghanistan and Iraq Susan Lyn Eastman has fulfilled that expectation and she has done so with a study impressive in its range of topical issues texts and commentary Philip D Beidler Margaret and William Going Professor of English University of Alabama After more than four decades the Viet Nam War continues to haunt our national memory culture politics and military actions In this probing interdisciplinary study Susan Lyn Eastman examines a range of cultural productions from memorials and poetry to cinematic and fictional narratives that have tried to grapple with the psychic afterlife of traumatic violence resulting from the ill fated conflict in Southeast Asia Underpinning the book is the notion of prosthetic memory which involves memories acquired by those with no direct experience of the war such as readers and filmgoers Prosthetic memories Eastman argues refuse to relegate the war to the forgotten past and challenge the authenticity of experience thus ensuring its continued relevance to debates over America s self conception specifically her coinage of the New Vietnam Syndrome and the country s role in world affairs when it comes to contemporary military interventions With the notable exception of the Veterans Memorial in Washington Eastman s focus is on works produced from the Persian Gulf War 1990-91 through the post 9/11 War on Terror She looks not only at American representations of the war from movies like Randall Wallace s We Were Soldiers to poems by W D Ehrhart Yusef Komunyakaa and others but also at novels by Vietnamese authors Bao Ninh and Huong Thu Duong The experiences of women figure prominently in the book Eastman devotes a chapter to the Vietnam Women s Memorial and another to Sandie Frazier s novel I Married Vietnam and Oliver Stone s film Heaven and Earth based on memoirs by Le Ly Hayslip And by examining Jessica Hagedorn s Dream Jungle a novel inspired by the filming of Apocalypse Now she considers how the war s repercussions were felt in other countries in this case the Philippines Her investigation of Vietnamese American authors Lan Cao Andrew Lam and GB Tran adds a transnational dimension to the study SUSAN LYN EASTMAN teaches in the Department of English at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga problematize textual and visual inscriptions of war and migration in the arts the media and in academic public and political discourses The essays in this collection address the academic and political interest in representations of the migrant and the refugee and examine the constructed nature of categories and concepts such as war refugee e victim border home non place and dis location Contributing authors engage with some of the most pressing questions surrounding war migration and refugeehood as well as with the ways in which war and its multifarious effects and repercussions in society are being framed propagated glorified or contested This volume initiates an interdisciplinary debate which re evaluates the relationship between war migration and refugeehood and their representations      The Distant Shores of Freedom Subarno

Chattarji,2019-11-18 The Distant Shores of Freedom analyses literary works in English written by Vietnamese refugees in the US Fiction and memoirs by Vietnamese Americans recover stories and memories that are often different from mainstream American ones and that difference enables readers to think of the US war in Vietnam from perspectives that are missing in mainstream representations Dwelling not only on the war and its aftermaths Vietnamese American writings also ponder over the existential issues of exile the idea of home the pain of marginality and racism the question of community formation within the US and the complexity of diasporic lives Subarno Chattarji raises critical questions such as who gets to speak and write and to what ends and purposes Who reads Vietnamese American writings and how can we account for these publications in the US over a period of time What can and cannot be written or spoken What is remembered and what is silenced What traumas and memories are articulated These questions point towards a larger context of diaspora studies as well as the rituals of cultural memory that complicate our understanding of the Vietnam War and its aftermaths      The World Looked Away Dave Bushy,2018-01-12 What happened to the people who remained in the former South Vietnam after the war ended in April 1975 Few of us know The war weary United States had turned its attention away from the region and the Communist leadership closed Vietnam to Western journalists For more than a decade little was heard but retribution against the South Vietnamese was swift and unending Hundreds of thousands of former South Vietnamese military officers were sent to Reeducation Camps Expecting a confinement of just ten days most were incarcerated for years suffering brutality starvation and death The families of prisoners had property and savings confiscated They were denied jobs and medical care They lived in poverty Ultimately nearly a million Boat People chose to escape Vietnam by sea taking their chances in fragile overcrowded vessels Thousands died at the hands of pirates and the unforgiving ocean This is the true story of Quoc Pham a former South Vietnamese naval officer and his wife Kim Cuong It tells of the love between a man and a woman and their courage in the face of hopelessness It is a story of a people of what happened in Vietnam while the world looked away
