put on mathematical machines This was always recognized to be true in the domain of software where machine or high level languages are more or less rigorous but immaterial variations of the universally accepted mathematical language aimed at specifying elementary operations functions algorithms and processes But even a mathematical machine needs a physical support and this is what hardware is all about The invention of hardware description languages HDL s in the early 60 s was an attempt to stay longer at an abstract level in the design process and to push the stage of physical implementation up to the moment when no more technology independant decisions can be taken It was also an answer to the continuous exponential growth of complexity of systems to be designed This problem is common to hardware and software and may explain why the syntax of hardware description languages has followed with a reasonable delay of ten years the evolution of the programming languages at the end of the 60 s they were Algol like a decade later Pascal like and now they are C or ADA like They have also integrated the new concepts of advanced software specification languages The Acts of the Apostles Adolf von Harnack,1909 Handbook of Farm Dairy and Food Machinery Myer Kutz,2007-02-28 Indispensable for food chemical mechanical and packaging engineers Handbook of Farm Dairy and Food Machinery covers in one comprehensive volume fundamental food engineering principles in the design of food industry machinery The handbook provides broad yet technically detailed coverage of food safety regulations product processing systems packaging facilities waste management and machinery design topics in a farm to the fork organization The 22 chapters are contributed by leading experts worldwide with numerous illustrations tables and references The book includes the new USDA regulations for certified organic processing as well as state of the art technologies for equipment both on the farm and in the plant The Athenaeum ,1855 Report of the State Librarian Pennsylvania State Library,1855 Includes catalogs of accessions and special bibliographical supplements
