

Experimental Design/Scientific Investigation POGIL

Why? When scientists set out to do an experiment, they first think about the variables that may affect the outcome of the experiment. A variable is any condition that may cause a change in the system being studied. Some variables are measured quantitatively (temperature, mass or height). Other variables are recorded in a qualitative manner (color, texture or species). The most important factor is that the scientist runs a controlled experiment. In a controlled experiment, only one variable is changed to ensure that the effect of only that one variable can be measured.
