Describe a problem you've solved or a problem you'd like to solve. It can be an intellectual challenge, a research query, an ethical dilemma—anything that is of personal importance, no matter the scale. Explain its significance to you and what steps you took or could be taken to identify a solution.

I am a politically disenfranchised Millennial. I want to believe that my vote matters. I want to believe that politicians are dedicated to public service and intellectualism, and the media is more than another self-interested business pushing its own agenda. However, I do not believe these things. So what is the answer? Am I forced to accept this "reality" or is there some way to make a difference?

In high school, I volunteered for the local chapter of the Republican Party and worked on a few campaigns in the summer. While I met a number of good people, I was disappointed to find that too many activists (both Republicans and Democrats) seemed more interested in winning at all costs than pursuing the greater good. Virtually no matter the weakness of the candidate, once they received their respective party's nomination, the person was seen as a savior and their opponent was cast as the villain with nefarious motives. In addition, both political parties did not seem to have a problem with twisting facts and spinning their answers to win.

My other frustration is that I do not know where I can turn for truth. The current situation with President Donald Trump and the prior presidential election is a good example. I listened to the news and read stories published by major outlets in an effort to educate myself on the issues, but most stories seemed to have a bias and eye catching headline that was not always accurate. I frequently read articles that sounded more like the author was advocating for a position rather than reporting the news. Similarly, I find myself disgusted with both the "spin" coming from the current Republican administration and an intolerant left that says we should be open minded and inclusive, but then only tells one side of the story and vilifies those who do not agree with them.

I wish I could say that I have found the perfect solution, but of course I cannot. And frankly as a teenager with limited life experiences, I am not sure I can even fully comprehend the totality of the problem at this point. Therefore, instead of giving up, I have formulated an initial two-part plan that I hope will lead me in the right direction.

First, I believe in personal action and, therefore, I must ensure my political discourse conforms to the standards that I believe in: honesty, mutual respect, and a commitment to intellectualism. Similarly, I must demand these attributes from candidates that I support regardless of political party. It is true that one person making these types of political choices will not change an election, but at the same time significant change cannot happen without individuals starting with themselves.

Second, I want to use my college experience to immerse myself in the intellectual study of government and politics. While I am sure that I will never fully escape bias, I am hopeful that college will empower me with the time and resources to search out "truth" and pursue learning without being bogged down by some of the daily struggles I will face later in life. I also hope that college will give me an opportunity to "test" and develop my ideas, meet people who see the world differently and have had different experiences, and, in the end, help me figure out the next steps.

I realize that my plan may be simplistic, but I look forward to finding ways to be part of the solution and not give in to accepting our current political "reality."

popular opinion you don't need to have a 4.0 GPA or a perfect jump shot to get into a good college. This insider's guide reveals easy tweaks that will pay off big time in showing admissions officers that you as a whole, not just your SAT scores, are a perfect fit for their incoming class. With stellar advice on getting into schools that will allow you to thrive, this handbook reveals how to find great colleges that are a good match for your strengths and will overlook less relevant weaknesses. Painlessly beef up your application. Tailor extracurriculars to showcase your uniqueness. Make sure your recommendation letters emphasize the right qualities. Write original essays that reveal traits beyond your transcript. Make an impression on admissions officers and college interviewers. Create an early admissions strategy to increase your likelihood of acceptance. Help your chances if you're deferred. Get into brand name schools through the side door. Communicate about learning disabilities or special circumstances. Get scholarship money based on attributes other than grades. Customize your financial aid strategy. BONUS Includes an appendix of 130 selective colleges to consider. Write Yourself In by Eric Tipler, 2024-06-11

Write authentic, memorable college essays that will help you get into the right school for you with this guidebook from a veteran college admissions expert. Every spring, over one million high school juniors embark on an annual rite of passage: applying to college. And with college admission rates at an all-time low, getting into a competitive school is now tougher than ever. At the top schools, a strong transcript and great test scores will get your application noticed, but it's your essays and the personal story that they highlight that will get you admitted. But often, students don't know where to start. Teens fret over topics because they don't know what college admissions officers are looking for. They bend over backwards to write what they think colleges want to read instead of telling their authentic story, which is what admissions officers actually want in a way that will resonate with their readers. They also struggle because college essays, which are narrative, first-person, and introspective, require a different set of skills from academic, expository writing they've been learning for years in the classroom. Seasoned college admissions expert and educator Eric Tipler has seen this firsthand. Teens and their parents spend countless anxiety-filled hours crafting and refining essays that are often lackluster. In Write Yourself In, Tipler meets students where they are and provides comprehensive, actionable advice in a warm and conversational tone. He demonstrates how to craft a winning essay, one that is authentic, vulnerable, and demonstrative of qualities like personal growth and emotional maturity. Instead of formulas, Write Yourself In gives students step-by-step processes for brainstorming, outlining, writing, and revising essays. It encourages them to seek out feedback at key points in the process, something Tipler has found to be vital to helping students produce their best writing. Further, the book includes sidebars that teach essential components of good storytelling, a secret weapon in the admissions process. In addition to the admissions essay, Write Yourself In also covers the most common supplemental essays on topics like community, diversity, openness to others' viewpoints, and why their school is a good fit for the student. Scholarship essays as well as scholarship essays. Tipler includes sections that address current topics like the widespread use of ChatGPT and the discussion of race in the admissions essay, a facet of the student's application that will have newfound importance given the Supreme Court decision on affirmative action Written with both the parent and teen in mind Write Yourself In is the go to handbook for writing a great college essay How to Pay for College Editors of the American Library Association, 2011-04-27 Whether you're a high school student already in college a parent or an adult returning to school this guide can help you thoroughly and easily research all available financial aid options narrow your search to those that are a good fit for you and make the best attempt possible at applying for them Within these pages find ways to plan and save for the high cost of college tuition how to look for schools that are less expensive yet offer everything an expensive school might when and how to fill out forms for loans grants and scholarships how to get the government to help you tips on applications and essays and much more This unique guide emphasizes the help that your local library can be in this process using its reference materials the Internet and the advice of experienced researchers This is a book that can help change your life
