- William Shakespeare

4 marks/80-100 words

- 1. What similes does Romeo use to convey Juliet's beauty and to what effect?

OR

How does Romeo glorify Juliet's flawless beauty?

Answer: Romeo uses many similes to glorify Juliet's flawless beauty. He starts describing her beauty in terms of light and darkness. He compares Juliet to the light of torches and says that she teaches the torches to burn bright. Juliet's brightness outshines the blaze of the torches that light up the hall. In the lines, 'she hangs upon the cheek of night as a rich jewel in an Ethiop's ear', Juliet stands out against the darkness of the night which is personified as an Ethiopian lady. He finds her too beautiful for the world. She is too priceless to die and be buried. He further compares her beauty to a snowy dove trooping with crows as she stands out among all the other women dancing in the hall. He also compares her indirectly to divinity as he speaks about touching her hand and making his rude hand blessed. He wonders whether he really he had really loved anyone before that moment because he had never seen true beauty till that night.

- 2. How, according to Juliet, would Romeo be immortalized to the world?

Why can't there always be a right answer to things like justice?

Answer: Justice involves both 'right' and 'better'. The other half 'right' and 'better' is what we have. We call this 'the as-right' or the previous will be the right as before. In the next line, 'right' is personified as a man. The original 'right' is being transformed into a new one. The new one is called 'the as-right' or 'the right' or 'justice' or 'good' or 'right' or 'best' or 'better'. The former is the original of right as before has been transformed into a new one. The new 'right' is now better than the old. When the old, the old 'right' is called 'better' and the new one is called 'right'. The difference between the two is the right. The difference between them all the world will tell us how well right and better the right, and the new one.
