Parliament. House of Commons,2004 This publication contains the report of the independent inquiry by Lord Hutton into the events leading up to the death of Dr David Kelly the government weapons expert in July 2003 after he had been publicly named as the source of a report by Andrew Gilligan on BBC Radio Fours Today programme which had alleged that the government had pressurised the Joint Intelligence Committee to exaggerate the military threat posed by Iraq in its September 2002 dossier The question of whether intelligence about Iraqs weapons of mass destruction justified going to war falls outside the scope of the inquiry The report concludes that Dr Kelly took his own life because he felt he had been publicly disgraced after being named as the source for the BBC report but nobody was at fault in not contemplating the possibility of his suicide Dr Kelly had broken official civil service procedures in having an unauthorised meeting with Andrew Gilligan a fact that Dr Kelly later recognised Due to uncertainties in Mr Gilligans evidence and note taking and in his misuse of language it is not possible to reach a definite conclusion as to what Dr Kelly actually said However the report states its satisfaction that Dr Kelly did not say that the Government had insisted in the insertion of the 45 minute claim probably knowing it to be wrong Therefore the allegation is judged to have been unfounded The BBC editorial system is found to have been defective in its failure to properly check the details of the allegations made by Andrew Gilligan before their broadcast and the BBC Governors and management system was at fault by failing to fully investigate complaints made by Alastair Campbell The government is cleared of any dishonourable or underhand conduct in the public naming of Dr Kelly Downing Street was entitled to suggest changes to the September dossier and it was appropriate for John Scarlett head of the Joint Intelligence Committee to take account of these There was no covert strategy by the Ministry of Defence to leak his name although they were at fault for failing to give Dr Kelly sufficient notice that his name had been made public Competing Stories James Stamant,2019-11-08 Major changes in media in the late 19th and early 20th centuries challenged traditional ideas about artistic representation and opened new avenues for authors working in the modernist period Modernist authors reactions to this changing media landscape were often fraught with complications and shed light on the difficulty of negotiating understanding and depicting media The author of Competing Stories Modernist Authors Newspapers and the Movies argues that negative depictions of newspapers and movies in modernist fiction largely stem from worries about the competition for modern audiences and the desire for control over storytelling and reflections of the modern world This book looks at a moment of major change in media the dominance of mass media that began with the primarily visual media of newspapers and movies and the ways that authors like Ernest Hemingway Zora Neale Hurston James Joyce Djuna Barnes and others responded The author contends that an examination of this moment may facilitate a better understanding of the relationship between media and authorship in our constantly shifting media landscape

The Fast and The Furious: Drivers, Speed Cameras and Control in a Risk Society Helen Wells, 2022-03-26 The Fast and The Furious Drivers Speed Cameras and Control in a Risk Society presents a sociological and criminological perspective critical to understanding the driver's role at the centre of road safety interventions. Such an approach is it is argued as crucial to an understanding of attempts to reduce road crashes, deaths and injuries as approaching such questions from an engineering or educational perspective. The book offers an explanation for the continued debate about one road safety intervention, the speed camera, by situating that debate within contemporary literature about the risk society (Beck 1992) and more broadly understood experiences of risk faced on a daily basis by drivers. Rather than a focus on risk as something that can be objectively assessed, measured and managed separately from the social context in which it is encountered, it suggests that risk is something that permeates this particular debate from every angle. The book achieves its aims by utilising sociological and criminological perspectives to investigate issues such as the social context in which it is possible for drivers to reject official scientific expertise about crash causation and camera effectiveness, the self-defined respectability of the population being problematised and its juxtaposition with a proper police focus on real criminals, the reconceptualisation of law breaking as risk taking rather than inherently wrong behaviour and its consequences for the enforcement of laws based on risk assessment, the experience of being controlled by technology and of receiving what is essentially automated justice. These and other issues are explored and suggested as illuminating of both the real concerns underpinning this debate and potentially instructive for future attempts to control risky behaviour both within and beyond a road safety context.

AI in Business and Economics Isabel Lausberg, Michael Vogelsang, 2024-09-23 Rapid advances in artificial intelligence (AI) technologies have generated intense interest and debate about their potential to reshape industries, labour markets and socioeconomic structures. This volume presents a collection of academic papers stemming from The Economic Perspective of Artificial Intelligence (EPEAI) conference held at the Ruhr West University of Applied Sciences in Mülheim an der Ruhr, Germany, in March 2023. AI in Business and Economics discusses topics as varied as marketing, accounting, reporting, business narratives, forecasting, generational differences in attitudes, economic policy, all in the context of exploring the multifaceted intersection of economics and artificial intelligence. It navigates through the fog caused by the heterogeneity of diverse AI applications and methodologies by examining artificial intelligence from an economic perspective. In doing so, it becomes clear that the implementation of a broad range of AI technologies in companies has just begun. Businesses, employees and policy makers will soon have to adapt to the fast-paced advancements in artificial intelligence, ensuring they become and remain competitive, ethical and forward thinking in a changing global landscape. This book will serve as a valuable resource for scholars, practitioners and students exploring the complexities of the economic implications of AI.
