Weisz, 2001 Family in War is a personal narrative of author Paul Weisz s family from 1938 1942 Through this amazing story of courage tragedy hope luck and survival readers will gain a greater understanding of Jewish families during the Holocaust City of Strangers Andrew M. Gardner, 2011-05-02 In City of Strangers Andrew M Gardner explores the everyday experiences of workers from India who have migrated to the Kingdom of Bahrain Like all the petroleum rich states of the Persian Gulf Bahrain hosts an extraordinarily large population of transmigrant laborers Guest workers who make up nearly half of the country s population have long labored under a sponsorship system the kafala that organizes the flow of migrants from South Asia to the Gulf states and contractually links each laborer to a specific citizen or institution In order to remain in Bahrain the worker is almost entirely dependent on his sponsor s goodwill The nature of this relationship Gardner contends often leads to exploitation and sometimes violence Through extensive observation and interviews Gardner focuses on three groups in Bahrain the unskilled Indian laborers who make up the most substantial portion of the foreign workforce on the island the country s entrepreneurial and professional

Indian middle class and Bahraini state and citizenry He contends that the social segregation and structural violence produced by Bahrain's kafala system result from a strategic arrangement by which the state insulates citizens from the global and neoliberal flows that paradoxically are central to the nation's intended path to the future City of Strangers contributes significantly to our understanding of politics and society among the states of the Arabian Peninsula and of the migrant labor phenomenon that is an increasingly important aspect of globalization

The Spirit of Development Erica Bornstein, 2005 This book is an examination of the connections between modern economic practices globalization and contemporary Christian religious belief based on an ethnographic study of NGOs in Zimbabwe It addresses issues crucial for those interested in the strengths and weaknesses of development theory and practice as well as in Protestant Christianity as a transnational religion

The Adoption Plan Jack Neubauer, 2025-03-18 During the tumultuous years of World War II and the Cold War new global humanitarian ideas and practices coalesced around the cause of saving the children in China How did China's children become archetypal victims who ignited a new global humanitarian imagination And who would prevail in the transnational contest to control the vast quantities of aid flowing into China on their behalf The Adoption Plan offers a new history of the rise of global humanitarianism that places the recipients administrators and critics of humanitarian aid in China at the center of the story Analyzing how the adoption plan for international child sponsorship became one of the most popular fundraising strategies for humanitarian work in China and across the world Jack Neubauer explores how the globalization of humanitarian aid was linked to new practices of global intimacy that enabled donors to build personal relationships with Chinese children across geographic and cultural divides Drawing on hundreds of letters written by Chinese children to foreign sponsors and extensive research in Chinese archives Neubauer shows how China's Nationalist and Communist parties mobilized the emotional bonds between children and sponsors to secure international support for their competing political projects By the 1950s child sponsorship and international adoption had become the most hotly contested humanitarian programs in Cold War East Asia Upending the conventional view of humanitarianism as a tool of Western influence The Adoption Plan demonstrates that it was often the Chinese recipients of aid who were best able to control its material and ideological uses
