Achieving Nelson Mandela University? Sibongile Muthwa, Denver A. Webb, 2024-08-20 South Africa s higher education sector is rooted in the country s divided past A significant State driven restructuring from around 1997 to 2005 resulted in what is largely the current configuration of public universities But just over two decades later for a variety of reasons the higher education sector in South Africa appears beset with numerous challenges Nelson Mandela University is one of the public universities that emerged from the restructuring process The university is in an ongoing state of evolution of becoming It developed out of the amalgamation of the University of Port Elizabeth Port Elizabeth Technikon and incorporation of the Port Elizabeth campus of Vista University as Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University in 2005 In 2017 it was renamed Nelson Mandela University after the world renowned statesman rather than the metropolitan area in which the university is primarily located The renaming was conceptualised as more than a marketing opportunity to rebrand the university but as an opportunity to reorientate the university to reposition Nelson Mandela University as an engaged and socially embedded university in the service of society striving to be the academic expression of the values and ethos of its iconic namesake Endeavouring to be something greater and different from the norm imbues its strategy public statements and practices The determination to achieve Mandela University serves or is intended to serve as both an organising principle and a lodestar A cross section of writers from different backgrounds situates Nelson Mandela University within the contemporary historical moment from which it emerged and examines its subsequent evolution While Nelson Mandela University has performed the usual work expected of any university it has also sought to turn the university outwards to achieve a higher purpose framing itself as a values based university on a journey to become something else In Achieving Nelson Mandela University the university attempts to give an account of itself The book is an intellectual and scholarly reflection on where the university has come from and where it is seeking to go The

Globalization of Internationalization Hans de Wit,Jocelyne Gacel-Ávila,Elsbeth Jones,Nico Jooste,2017-01-20 The Globalization of Internationalization is a timely text which gives voice to emerging perspectives as an increasing range of countries engage in the process of internationalization The pressure to internationalize cannot be ignored by institutions anywhere in today s world yet the dominant paradigms in the conception of internationalization traditionally come from the English speaking world and Western Europe This book sets out to offer alternative viewpoints Different dimensions and interpretations of internationalization in countries and regions whose perspectives have received little attention to date provide food for thought and help to broaden understanding of its application in alternative contexts Combining diverse perspectives from around the world this new volume in the Internationalization in Higher Education series seeks answers to key questions such as What are the main characteristics of internationalization viewed from different cultural and regional backgrounds and how do they differ from traditional models such as in Western Europe North America and Australasia What issues in different global contexts have an impact on internationalization processes What are the key challenges and obstacles encountered in developing innovative and non traditional models of internationalization With contributions from world renowned international authors and perspectives from countries and contexts seen only rarely in the literature The Globalization of Internationalization offers distinctive overviews and insights while exploring a range of thematic and regional issues arising from these considerations This will be essential reading both as an academic resource and a practical manual for university leaders academics higher education policy advisers and non governmental organizations which fund higher education Anchored in Place Leslie Bank,Nico Cloete,2018-11-05 Tensions in South African universities have traditionally centred around equity particularly access and affordability historical legacies such as apartheid and colonialism and the shape and structure of the higher education system What has not received sufficient attention is the contribution of the university to place based development This volume is the first in South Africa to engage seriously with the place based developmental role of universities In the international literature and policy there has been an increasing integration of the university with place based development especially in cities This volume weighs in on the debate by drawing attention to the place based roles and agency of South African universities in their local towns and cities It acknowledges that universities were given specific development roles in regions homelands and towns under apartheid and comments on why sub national place based development has not been a key theme in post apartheid higher education planning Given the developmental crisis in the country universities could be expected to play a more constructive and meaningful role in the development of their own precincts cities and regions But what should that role be Is there evidence that this is already occurring in South Africa despite the lack of a national policy framework What plans and programmes are in place and what is needed to expand the development agency of universities at the local level Who and what might be involved Where should the focus lie and who might benefit most and why Is there a need perhaps to approach the challenges of college towns secondary cities and metropolitan centers differently This book poses some of these questions as it considers the experiences of a number of South African universities including Wits Pretoria Nelson Mandela University and especially Fort Hare as one of its post centenary challenges

Food Sovereignty and Urban Agriculture Anne Siebert,2022-07-08 This book analyses the interplay of urban agriculture and food sovereignty through the innovative lens of the critical urban food perspective It focuses on the mobilisation of urban food producers as a powerful response to highly exclusionary dynamics in the agri food system including insufficient food access and disastrous land dispossessions This volume particularly aims to fill the gap in the current literature by engaging with food sovereignty discourses and movements in urban areas Related activism of urban food producers in the Global South remains underrepresented in practice and in literature Therefore this book engages with the lived realities of an urban agriculture initiative in George South Africa Building on theoretical notions of the right to the city and everyday forms of resistance the book illuminates how deprived food producers expose inequalities and propose alternatives The findings of in depth empirical research reveal that dwellers perceive farming as a mean to overcome historical segregation high food prices and unhealthy nutrition Hence they breathe life into food sovereignty in practice and suggest further alliances beyond the city The book will be of interest to scholars and students of alternative food politics agrarian transformation and food movements as well as rural urban intersections

This book studies recent attempts to restructure maritime security sectors through capacity building It innovates both theoretically and empirically It proposes a new framework for understanding maritime capacity building drawing on work in peacebuilding and security sector reform The framework is then applied across empirical case studies from the Western Indian Ocean WIO region written by scholars from the Global South The WIO region is a paradigmatic case to study maritime security and capacity building in action Countries in the region face the full gamut of maritime security challenges while their indigenous capacities to deal with these are often weak In consequence the region functions as an engine of innovation for maritime capacity building more widely The lessons and best practices from the region have importance consequences for addressing maritime security across the globe Exploring the link between poverty and human rights in Africa Edited by Ebenezer Durojaye and Gladys Mirugi-Mukundi,2020-01-01 About the publication This book addresses poverty one of the important issues confronting Africa from a multi disciplinary approach With contributions from eminent scholars from diverse backgrounds the book explores poverty from a human rights perspective Its central message is that poverty is not necessarily a failure on the part of an individual but rather caused by the actions or inactions of governments which are often exacerbated by structural inequalities in many African societies This in turn requires a more pragmatic approach grounded in respect for human rights Exploring the link between poverty and human rights in Africa will be useful to researchers policymakers students activists and others interested in addressing poverty Table of Contents PREFACE viii
