

Unit 1: Beginnings of America and Forming a New Nation

Readings: American History: Modern American History (pp. 1-175)
 Chapter 1: Beginnings of America
 Chapter 2: Founding of New Nation

Directions: After reading, use at least evidence developed in each case to justify your claim. Then, defend/defend against the historical argument of each position relating to the study of American history by a few observations and logical critical responses.

	Issue	Thesis/Claim
	Issue 1
1	European Colonization	European colonization was a necessary step in the development of the United States. Without European colonization, the United States would not have been able to develop into the nation it is today.
2	European Colonization	The European colonization of North America was a mistake. The Native Americans were the original inhabitants of the continent, and the European colonists were responsible for the destruction of their culture and way of life.
3	European Colonization	The European colonization of North America was a necessary step in the development of the United States. Without European colonization, the United States would not have been able to develop into the nation it is today.
4	Native Rights	Native rights should be protected. The Native Americans were the original inhabitants of the continent, and they have a right to their land and way of life. The government should protect their rights and ensure that they are not violated.
5	Native Rights	The Native Americans were responsible for the destruction of their culture and way of life. The government should not protect their rights, but rather, it should ensure that they are not violated.
6	Slavery	Slavery was a necessary step in the development of the United States. Without slavery, the United States would not have been able to develop into the nation it is today.
7	Slavery	Slavery was a mistake. The Native Americans were the original inhabitants of the continent, and the European colonists were responsible for the destruction of their culture and way of life.
8	Slavery	The European colonization of North America was a necessary step in the development of the United States. Without European colonization, the United States would not have been able to develop into the nation it is today.
9	Slavery	The European colonization of North America was a mistake. The Native Americans were the original inhabitants of the continent, and the European colonists were responsible for the destruction of their culture and way of life.
