Action Research From Concept to Presentation: A Practical Handbook to Writing Your Master's Thesis Peter K. Lynch EdD, Ryan C. Welch, MS, 2014-07-03 Perhaps the most daunting graduate school requirement is the development of an action research Master's thesis This capstone task requires unprecedented amounts of time energy and verbiage Designed to take stress out of the thesis writing equation this student friendly comprehensive handbook glides the reader through a 28 step process from developing a focal topic to defending a scholarly thesis Framing each chapter as a one week action assignment the authors have broken down the process into manageable chunks to enable students writers to achieve an immediate sense of completion at every step By using this scaffolding approach the authors encourage the student researcher to focus on one part of the process rather than the total sometimes overwhelming final product With the exception of the Review of the Literature section which takes several weeks to complete all other thesis sections can and should be timed out for seven days The Authors primary objective was to empower the student researcher to accomplish each of the steps in the process while never losing sight of the product that will help the children in their classrooms Whether developing an Abstract or writing in text citations student researchers are guided throughout the nuances of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association's 6th Edition Global Perspectives on Childhood Obesity Debasis Bagchi, 2010-10-12 Understanding the complex factors contributing to the Obesity, Eating Disorders and the Media Karin Eli, Stanley Ulijaszek, 2016-05-23 How do the media represent obesity and eating disorders? How are these representations related to one another? And how do the news media select which scientific findings and policy decisions to report? Multi-disciplinary in approach, Obesity, Eating Disorders and the Media presents critical new perspectives on media representations of obesity and eating disorders with analyses of print, online, and televisual media framings. Exploring abjection and alarm as the common themes linking media framings of obesity and eating disorders, Obesity, Eating Disorders and the Media shows how the media similarly position these conditions as dangerous extremes of body size and food practice. The volume then investigates how news media selectively cover and represent science and policy concerning obesity and eating disorders with close attention to the influence of pre-existing framings alongside institutional and moral agendas. A rich, comprehensive analysis of media framings of obesity and eating disorders as embodied conditions, complex disorders, public health concerns, and culturally significant phenomena, this volume will be of interest to scholars and students across the social sciences and all those interested in understanding cultural aspects of obesity and eating disorders.
