The Hidden Language of Symbols Matthew Wilson, 2022-11-03 Why do we reach for the red rose on Valentines day Where did the owl gain its reputation for wisdom Why should you never trust a fox In this visual tour through art history Matthew Wilson pieces together a global visual language enshrined in art the language of symbols Symbols exert a strong hold in the image saturated 21st century and have done so for thousands of years From national emblems to corporate logos and emojis our day to day lives abound with icons with roots in the distant past Expert art historian Matthew Wilson traces the often surprising trajectories that symbols have taken through history from their original purposes to their modern meanings identifying the common themes and ideas that link seemingly disparate cultures Thus we meet the falcon as a symbol of authority from the ancient Egyptian pharaohs to the medieval aristocracy the dog as stalwart companion from the classical era to the Renaissance and the mythical phoenix as a symbol of female power connecting a queen in England with a goddess in China We also see moments of radical reinterpretation and change the transformation of the swastika from an auspicious symbol of hope to one of hate From Palaeolithic cave paintings to contemporary installations Wilson deftly guides us through this world of symbols showcasing their enduring ability to express power hope fear and faith and to create and communicate identities uniting or dividing the people that made them

Toni Morrison and the Natural World Anissa Janine Wardi, 2021-06-28 Winner of the Toni Morrison Society Book Prize for Best Single Authored Book 2019 2022 Critics have routinely excluded African American literature from ecocritical inquiry despite the fact that the literary tradition has from its inception proved to be steeped in environmental concerns that address elements of the natural world and relate nature to the transatlantic slave trade plantation labor and nationhood Toni Morrison s work is no exception Toni Morrison and the Natural World An Ecology of Color is the first full length ecocritical investigation of the Nobel Laureate s novels and brings to the fore an unequalled engagement between race and nature Morrison s ecological consciousness holds that human geographies are enmeshed with nonhuman nature It follows then that ecology the branch of biology that studies how people relate to each other and their environment is an apt framework for this book The interrelationships and interactions between individuals and community and between organisms and the biosphere are central to this analysis They highlight that the human and nonhuman are part of a larger ecosystem of interfacing and transformations Toni Morrison and the Natural World is organized by color examining soil brown in The Bluest Eye and Paradise plant life green in Song of Solomon Beloved and Home bodies of water blue in Tar Baby and Love and fire orange in Sula and God Help the Child By providing a racially inflected reading of nature Toni Morrison and the Natural World makes an important contribution to the field of environmental studies and provides a landmark for Morrison scholarship

Ten Materials That Shaped Our World M. Grant Norton, 2021-06-30 This book examines ten materials flint clay iron gold glass cement rubber polyethylene aluminum and silicon explaining how they formed how we discovered them why they have the properties they do and how they have transformed our lives Since the dawn of the Stone Age we have shaped materials to meet our needs and in turn those materials have shaped us The fracturing of flint created sharp curved surfaces that gave our ancestors an evolutionary edge Molding clay and then baking it in the sun produced a means of recording the written word and exemplified human artistic imagination As our ability to control heat improved earthenware became stoneware and eventually porcelain the most prized ceramic of all Iron cast at high temperatures formed the components needed for steam engines locomotives and power looms the tools of the Industrial Revolution Gold has captivated humans for thousands of years and has recently found important uses in biology medicine and nanotechnology Glass shaped into early and imperfect lenses not only revealed the microscopic world of cells and crystals but also allowed us to discover stars and planets beyond those visible with the naked eye Silicon revolutionized the computer propelling us into the Information Age and with it our interconnected social networks the Internet of Things and artificial intelligence Written by a materials scientist this book explores not just why but also how certain materials came to be so fundamental to human society This enlightening study captivates anyone interested in learning more about the history of humankind our ingenuity and the materials that have shaped our world

Strange Bright Blooms Randy Malamud, 2021-09-27 Virginia Woolf famously began one of her greatest novels Mrs Dalloway said she would buy the flowers herself Of course she would why would anyone surrender the best part of the day to someone else Flowers grace our lives at moments of celebration and despair We eat drink sing dance and flirt with them writes Kakuzo Okakura Flowers brighten our homes our parties and our rituals with incomparable notes of natural beauty but the nature in these displays is tamed and conscribed Randy Malamud seeks to understand the transplanted nature of cut flowers of our relationship with them and the careful curation of their very existence It is a picaresque unpredictable ramble through the world of flowers but also the world itself exploring painting murals fashion public art glass flowers pressed flowers flowery church hats weaponized flowers deconstructed flowers flower power and much more

Botanical Architecture Paul Dobraszczyk, 2024-11-12 An original call to reorient architecture around our relationship to plants When we look at trees we see a form of natural architecture and yet we have seemingly always exploited trees to make new buildings of our own Whereas a tree creates its own structure humans generally destroy other things to build with increasingly disastrous consequences In Botanical Architecture Paul Dobraszczyk looks closely at how elements of plants seeds roots trunks branches leaves flowers and canopies compare with and constitute human made buildings Given the omnipresence of plant life in and around our structures Dobraszczyk argues that we ought to build as much for plants as for ourselves

understanding that our lives are always totally dependent on theirs Botanical Architecture offers a provocative and original take on the relationship between ecology and architecture Monsters under Glass Jane Desmarais,2018-08-15 Monsters under Glass explores our enduring fascination with hothouses and exotic blooms from their rise in ancient times through the Victorian vogue for plant collecting to the vegetable monsters of twentieth century science fiction and the movies comics and video games of the present day Our interest in hothouses can be traced back to the Roman emperor Tiberius but it was only in the early nineteenth century that a boom in exotic plant collecting and new glasshouse technologies stimulated the imagination of novelists poets and artists and the hothouse entered the creative language in a highly charged way Decadent writers in England and Europe including Charles Baudelaire and Oscar Wilde transformed the hothouse from a functional object to a powerful metaphor of metropolitan life sexuality and being replete with a dark underside of decay and death and of consciousness itself nurtured and dissected under glass In a study as wide ranging vivid and beautiful as our beloved exotic blooms themselves Jane Desmarais charts the history and influence of these humid tropical worlds and their creations providing a steamy window onto our recent past Blooming Flowers Kasia Boddy,2020-04-09 An evocative and richly illustrated exploration of flowers and how over the centuries they have given us so much sustenance meaning and pleasure The bright yellow of a marigold and the cheerful red of a geranium the evocative fragrance of a lotus or a saffron infused paella there is no end of reasons to love flowers Ranging through the centuries and across the globe Kasia Boddy looks at the wealth of floral associations that has been passed down in perfumes poems and paintings in the design of buildings clothes and jewelry in songs TV shows and children s names and in nearly every religious social and political ritual Exploring the first daffodils of spring and the last chrysanthemums of autumn this is also a book about seasons In vibrant detail and drawing on a rich array of illustrations Boddy considers how the sunflower poppy rose lily and many others have given rise to meaning value and inspiration throughout history and why they are integral to so many different cultures Floral Folklore Alison Davies,2024-03-05 Discover the fascinating folklore behind more than 40 of nature s most beautiful flora and fauna and learn how you can apply their timeless teachings to modern day life and embrace the ritual of getting out into nature Earth Magic Cheralyn Darcey,2025-09-03 A beautiful treasury of nature based spells from a popular expert this guide explores the healing power of flowers herbs and trees Explore the magical qualities and healing power of plants with this beautiful collection of spells Plants have the ability to heal comfort and nourish and hold ancient energies that have been used to create magic spells throughout time Tap into this magical power to facilitate change and find the support and inspiration you seek In addition to spells for everything from protection love and relationships to self care and modern life the collection also features guidance on spellcasting and spell crafting including how to write and cast your own spells Dutch and Flemish Flower Pieces (2 vols in case) Sam Segal,Klara Alen,2020-09-25 This richly illustrated book provides an overview of all known Dutch and Flemish artists up to the nineteenth century who painted or drew flower pieces or else made prints of them

Unlike many mainstream art historical studies the book takes a truly comprehensive approach including cases where only a single example is known or even if nothing of the artist's other work appears to have survived. Containing highly instructive lists identifying the names of flowers as well as insects and other animals, the book also discusses the earliest depictions of flower still life and the distinctive characteristics behind the development of floral arrangements in different periods, including the variation of the flowers, the variety of techniques used by artists as well as an exploration of the symbolism behind the numerous plant and animal species. This form of art portrays a composition in Dutch; the text was translated into English by Judith Deitch and edited by Philip Kelleway. Publication of this book was made possible thanks to generous support of Dr med Bettina Leysen, Rose Marie and Eijk van Otterloo and the Center for Netherlandish Art at the Museum of Fine Arts Boston. With additional support of the M A O C Gravin van Bylandt Stichting. See inside the book.

The Cabaret of Plants Richard Mabey, 2015-10-22. In The Cabaret of Plants, Mabey explores the plant species which have challenged our imaginations, awoken our wonder and upturned our ideas about history, science, beauty and belief. Picked from every walk of life, they encompass crops, weeds, medicines, religious gathering places and a water lily named after a queen. Beginning with pagan cults and creation myths, the cultural significance of plants has burst upwards, sprouting into forms as diverse as the panacea, the cure-all plant, ginseng, a single root of which can cost up to 10,000 Newton's apples, the African vegetable elephant or baobab and the mystical night-flowering Amazonian cactus, the moonflower. Ranging widely across science, art and cultural history, poetry and personal experience, Mabey puts plants centre stage and reveals a true botanical cabaret, a world of tricksters, shape-shifters and inspired problem solvers as well as an enthralled audience of romantics, eccentric amateur scientists and transgressive artists. The Cabaret of Plants celebrates the idea that plants are not simply the furniture of the planet but vital, inventive individual beings worthy of respect and that to understand this may be the best way of preserving life together on Earth.

Burma, Kipling and Western Music Andrew Selth, 2016-11-03. For decades, scholars have been trying to answer the question: how was colonial Burma perceived in and by the Western world, and how did people in countries like the United Kingdom and United States form their views? This book explores how Western perceptions of Burma were influenced by the popular music of the day. From the First Anglo-Burmese

War of 1824-6 until Burma regained its independence in 1948 more than 180 musical works with Burma related themes were written in English speaking countries in addition to the many hymns composed in and about Burma by Christian missionaries Servicemen posted to Burma added to the lexicon with marches and ditties and after 1913 most movies about Burma had their own distinctive scores Taking Rudyard Kipling's 1890 ballad Mandalay as a critical turning point this book surveys all these works with emphasis on popular songs and show tunes also looking at classical works ballet scores hymns soldiers songs sea shanties and film soundtracks It examines how they influenced Western perceptions of Burma and in turn reflected those views back to Western audiences The book sheds new light not only on the West's historical relationship with Burma and the colonial music scene but also Burma's place in the development of popular music and the rise of the global music industry In doing so it makes an original contribution to the fields of musicology and Asian Studies
