Shanghai Sacred Benoît Vermander, Liz Hingley, Liang Zhang, 2018-04-15 Shanghai a dynamic world metropolis is home to a multitude of religions from Buddhism and Islam to Christianity and Baha'ism to Hinduism and Daoism and many more. In this city of 24 million inhabitants, new religious groups and older faiths together claim and reclaim spiritual space. Shanghai Sacred explores the spaces, rituals, and daily practices that make up the religious landscape of the city, offering a new paradigm for the study of Chinese spirituality that reflects the global trends shaping Chinese culture and civil society. Based on years of fieldwork incorporating both comparative and methodological perspectives, Shanghai Sacred demonstrates how religions are lived, constructed, and thus inscribed into the social imaginary of the metropolis. Evocative photographs by Liz Hingley enrich and interact with the narrative, making the book an innovative contribution to religious visual ethnography. The Oxford Handbook of Modern Chinese Literatures Carlos Rojas, Andrea Bachner, 2016 With over forty original essays, The Oxford Handbook of Modern Chinese Literatures offers an in-depth engagement with the current analytical methodologies and critical practices that are shaping the field in the twenty-first century. Divided into three sections: Structure, Taxonomy, and Methodology, the volume carefully moves across approaches, genres, and forms to address a rich range of topics that include popular culture in Late Qing China; Zhang Guangyu's Journey to the West in cartoons; writings of Southeast Asian migrants in Taiwan; the Chinese Anglophone Novel; and depictions of HIV/AIDS in Chu T'ien-wen's Notes of a Desolate Man. Urban Loopholes Ying Zhou, 2017-06-26 Urban reuse, creative production, consumerism, and heritage protection have formed an alliance for the transformation of inner-city districts of Shanghai. This in-depth study, based on the author's intimate familiarity of the local scene and supplemented by her critical outsider's insights, describes the strategies, players, and processes of a uniquely Chinese model of urban transformation. Concepts like Urban Loopholes, Preservation via Inhabitation, and Gentrification with Chinese characteristics characterize the specific mechanisms for urban development in Shanghai. Urban Loopholes invites the reader to rethink the necessity of urban resilience in the face of globalization's impact for change. Ageing with Smartphones in Urban China Xinyuan Wang, 2023-09-04 If we want to understand contemporary China, the key is through understanding the older generation. This is the generation in China whose life courses almost perfectly synchronised with the emergence and growth of the New China under the rule of the Communist Party in 1949. People in their 70s and 80s have double the life expectancy of their parents' generation. The current eldest generation in Shanghai was born in a time when the average household could not afford electric lights, but today they can turn their lights off via their smartphone apps. Based on 16-month ethnographic fieldwork in Shanghai, Ageing with Smartphones in Urban China tackles the intersection between the two revolutions experienced by the older generation in Shanghai: the contemporary smartphone-based digital revolution and the earlier communist revolutions. We find that we can only explain the smartphone revolution if we first appreciate the long-term consequences of these people's experiences during the communist revolutions. The context of this book is a wide range of drastic social transformations in China, from the Cultural Revolution to the individualism and Confucianism in Digital China. Supported by detailed ethnographic material, the observations and analysis provide a panorama view of the social landscape of contemporary China including topics such as the digital and everyday life ageing and healthcare intergenerational relations and family development community building and grassroots organizations collective memories and political attitudes among ordinary Chinese people Above sea Jenny Lin, 2018-11-30 Shanghai long known as mainland China's most cosmopolitan city is today a global cultural capital This book offers the first in depth examination of contemporary Shanghai based art and design from state sponsored exhibitions to fashionable cultural complexes to cutting edge films and installations Informed by years of in situ research the book looks beyond contemporary art's global hype to reveal the socio political tensions accompanying Shanghai's transitions from semi colonial capitalism to Maoist socialism to Communist Party sponsored capitalism Case studies reveal how Shanghai's global aesthetic constructs glamorising artifices that mask the conflicts between vying notions of foreign influenced modernity and anti colonialist nationalism as well as the city's repressed socialist past and its consumerist present After the Post-Cold War Jinhua Dai, 2018-10-25 In After the Post Cold War eminent Chinese cultural critic Dai Jinhua interrogates history memory and the future of China as a global economic power in relation to its socialist past profoundly shaped by the Cold War Drawing on Marxism post structuralism psychoanalysis and feminist theory Dai examines recent Chinese films that erase the country's socialist history to show how such erasure resignifies socialism's past as failure and thus forecloses the imagining of a future beyond that of globalized capitalism She outlines the tension between China's embrace of the free market and a regime dependent on a socialist imprimatur She also offers a genealogy of China's transformation from a source of revolutionary power into a fountainhead of globalized modernity This narrative Dai contends leaves little hope of moving from the capitalist degradation of the present into a radical future that might offer a more socially just world
