The Real Deal Yehuda Fine, 2006-12 WARNING not just another run of the mill guide for parents and teachers of teens Answers the secret questions that adolescents discuss among themselves Doesn't pull punches sometimes politically incorrect and controversial but also grounded in real life meticulously documented by thousands of interviews with teenagers across America

Sapphism on Screen Lucille Cairns, 2006-03-30 This book sets out to investigate and theorise mediations of lesbian desire in a substantial corpus of films spanning the period 1936-2002 by male and female directors working in France and also in French speaking parts of Belgium Canada Switzerland and Africa The corpus is unique in never before having been assembled and represents a valuable tool not just for researchers but also for university teachers creating courses both on lesbianism in film and on sexuality in French cinema A fair number of the 89 texts treated are mainstream films which have achieved high critical acclaim and or high viewing figures to cite just a few examples Henri Georges Clouzot's Quai des orfèvres 1947 Louis Malle's Milou en mai 1989 Claude Chabrol's La Cérémonie 1995 André Techine's Les Voleurs 1995 and François Ozon's Huit femmes 2001 As such they have contributed to hegemonic constructions of and debate on female homosexuality in a century wherein sexed gendered identity including sexual orientation has become a preeminent factor in the constitution of subjectivity While such constructions and debate have a French language specificity and have been produced in distinct socio-political and cultural contexts this study also engages in analytical comparisons with relevant anglophone films and their own distinct discursive contexts

The Masks of Mary Renault Caroline Zilboorg, 2013-10-10 Born Eileen Mary Challans in London in 1905 Mary Renault wrote six successful contemporary novels before turning to the historical fiction about ancient Greece for which she is best known While Renault's novels are still highly regarded her life and work have never been completely examined Caroline Zilboorg seeks to remedy this in The Masks of Mary Renault by exploring Renault's identity as a gifted writer and a sexual woman in a society in which neither of these identities was clear or easy Although Renault's life was anything but ordinary this fact has often been obscured by her writing The daughter of a doctor she grew up comfortably and attended a boarding school in Bristol She received a degree in English from St Hugh's College in Oxford in 1928 but she chose not to pursue an academic career Instead she decided to attend the Radcliffe Infirmary in Oxford where she trained to be a nurse With the outbreak of the Second World War she was assigned to the Winford Emergency Hospital in Bristol and briefly worked with Dunkirk evacuees She went on to work in the Radcliffe Infirmary's brain surgery ward and was there until 1945 It was during her nurse's training that Renault met Julie Mullard who became her lifelong companion This important lesbian relationship both resolved and posed many problems for Renault not the least of which was how she was to write about issues at once intensely personal and socially challenging In 1939 Renault published her first novel under a pseudonym in order to mask her identity It was a time when she was struggling not only with her vocation nursing and writing but also with her sexual identity in the social and moral context of English life during the war In 1948 Renault left England with Mullard for South Africa and never returned It was in South Africa that she made the shift from her early contemporary novels of manners to the mature historical novels of Hellenic life The classical settings allowed Renault to mask material too explosive to deal with directly while simultaneously giving her an academic freedom to write about subjects vital to her among them war peace career women s roles female and male homosexuality and bisexuality Renault s reception complicates an understanding of her achievement for she has a special status within the academic community where she is both widely read and little written about Her interest in sexuality and specifically in homosexuality and bisexuality in fluid gender roles and identities warrants a rereading and reevaluation of her work Eloquenty written and extensively researched The Masks of Mary Renault will be of special value to anyone interested in women s studies or English literature Teaching Human Dignity Miriam Wolf-Wasserman, Linda Hutchinson, 1978 A collection of essays histories and lessons that attempt to make the American educational system relevant to people s lives
