Mforteh, 2011-10-27 This volume investigates sociolinguistic discourses identity choices and their representations in postcolonial national and social life and traces them to the impact of colonial contact The chapters stitch together current voices and identities emerging within both ex colonized and ex colonizer communities as each copes with the social lingual cultural and religious mixes triggered by colonialism These mixes reflected in the five thematic parts of the book postcolonial identities nationhood discourses translating the postcolonial living the postcolonial and colonizing the colonizer call for deeper investigations of postcolonial communities using emic approaches Household Income and Expenditure Survey, 2002/03: Main report Botswana. Central Statistics Office,2004 2005/06 Labour Force Report Botswana. Central Statistics Office,2008 Based on data of the 2005 06 Labour Force Survey LFS conducted in Botswana provides information on the economically active population mainly on the size and structure of Botswana s workforce and among others gives baseline information on indicators of employment and unemployment levels informal activities underemployment children s economic activities and household characteristics respectively Household Income and Expenditure Survey ,2002 The Journal of the Acoustical Society of America Acoustical Society of America,2007 The African Mother Tongue and Mathematical Ideas Abdul Karim Bangura,2020-06-02 This book by renowned scholar Dr Abdul Karim Bangura combines linguistics and mathematics to show how and why African centred mathematical ideas can be a driving force in Africa s development efforts Bangura explores the concept that Africa has been the centre of the History of Mathematics for thousands of years as the civilizations that emerged across the continent developed contributions which would enrich both ancient and modern understanding of nature through mathematics However scholars and other professionals working in the field of mathematics education in Africa have identified a plethora of issues in carrying out their tasks This is highlighted by one of the most compelling arguments in the book which is that a major reason for these problems is the fact that the African mother tongues has been greatly neglected in the teaching of mathematics in the continent Bangura asserts that a change has to be made in order for Africa to benefit from the exceptional opportunities mathematics offer showing that even if there is a great body of work connecting linguistics and mathematics few analyses have been performed on the link between African languages and mathematics and the ones that have been made are not theoretically grounded on linguistics Thus the book begins by identifying the objects of study of linguistics and mathematics and delineates which ones they have in common Next since the object of study of linguistics is language the nine design features of language are employed to examine each of the objects as it pertains to African languages After that mathematical ideas of sustainability and those of tipping points are suggested as means to help Africa s development efforts Genome Generation Elizabeth Finkel,2012-01-01 The year 2001 marked more than just the beginning of Stanley Kubrick s Space Odyssey it marked the beginning of the genome era That was the year scientists first read the 3 billion letters of DNA that make up the human genome This was followed by a veritable Noah s Ark of genomes sponges and worms dogs and cows rice and wheat chimps and elephants 180 creatures aboard so far So what have we learned from all this How has it changed the way we practise medicine grow crops and breed livestock What have we learned about evolution These are the questions science writer and molecular biologist Elizabeth Finkel asked herself four years ago To find the answers she travelled the science frontier from Botswana to Boston from Warracknabeal to Mexico and tracked down scientists working in the field Their stories told here paint the picture of what it means to be part of the genome generation The Genome Generation is absolutely riveting These tales from the frontier are a must read for everyone who wishes to understand our past the logic of evolution or take a peep into our exciting future at the creation of super plants through digital agriculture R A Mashelkar CSIR Bhatnagar Fellow and India President Global Research Alliance
