Jackson, 2012-12-06 Modern Methods of Plant Analysis When the handbook Modern Methods of Plant Analysis was first introduced in 1954 the considerations were 1 the dependence of scientific progress in biology on the improvement of existing and the introduction of new methods 2 the difficulty in finding many new analytical methods in specialized journals which are normally not accessible to experimental plant biologists 3 the fact that in the methods sections of papers the description of methods is frequently so compact or even sometimes so incomplete that it is difficult to reproduce experiments These considerations still stand today The series was highly successful seven volumes appearing between 1956 and 1964 Since there is still today a demand for the old series the publisher has decided to resume publication of Modern Methods of Plant Analysis It is hoped that the New Series will be just as acceptable to those working in plant sciences and related fields as the early volumes undoubtedly were It is difficult to single out the major reasons for success of any publication but we believe that the methods published in the first series were up to date at the time and presented in a way that made description as applied to plant material complete in itself with little need to consult other publications Contributing authors have attempted to follow these guidelines in this New Series of volumes Polish Journal of Chemistry, 1978 Emerging Technology for Monitoring and Treatment in Critical Care Koichiro Shinozaki, Taka-aki Nakada, Chih-Hsien Wang, 2022-06-14 Dermatotoxicology Klaus Peter Wilhelm, Hongbo Zhai, Howard I. Jaroniec, Abdel Sayari, 2002-05-15 Nanoporous Materials III contains the invited lectures and peer reviewed oral and poster contributions to be presented at the 3rd Conference on Nanoporous Materials which will be hosted in Ottawa Canada June 2002 The work covers complementary approaches to and recent advances in the field of nanostructured materials with pore sizes larger than 1 nm such as periodic mesoporous molecular sieves M41S and FSM16 and related materials including clays carbon molecular sieves colloidal crystal templated organic and inorganic materials porous polymers and sol gels The broad range of topics covered in relation to the synthesis and characterization of ordered mesoporous materials are of great importance for advanced adsorption catalytic and separation processes as well as the development of nanotechnology The contents of this title are based on topics to be discussed by invited lecturers which deal with periodic mesoporous organosilicas stability and catalytic activity of aluminosilicate mesostructures electron microscopy studies of ordered materials imprinted polymers and highly porous metal organic frameworks The other contributions deal with tailoring the surface and structural properties of nanoporous materials giving a detailed characterization as well as demonstrating their usefulness for advanced adsorption and catalytic
