

Sample Reflective Essay

Author: Nekisa Mahzad

I have been a student at California State University Channel Islands (CI) for 5 semesters, and over the course of my stay I have grown and learned more than I thought possible. I came to this school from Moorpark Community College already knowing that I wanted to be an English teacher; I had taken numerous English courses and though I knew exactly what I was headed for-was I ever wrong. Going through the English program has taught me so much more than stuff about literature and language, it has taught me how to be me. I have learned here how to write and express myself, how to think for myself, and how to find the answers to the things that I don't know. Most importantly I have learned how important literature and language are.

When I started at CI, I thought I was going to spend the next 3 years reading classics, discussing them and then writing about them. That was what I did in community college English courses, so I didn't think it would be much different here. On the surface, to an outsider, I am sure that this is what it appears that C.I. English majors do. In most all my classes I did read, discuss, and write papers; however, I quickly found out that that there was so much more to it. One specific experience I had while at C.I. really shows how integrated this learning is. Instead of writing a paper for my final project in Perspectives of Multicultural Literature (ENGL 449), I decided with a friend to venture to an Indian reservation and compare it to a book we read by Sherman Alexie. We had a great time and we learned so much more that we ever could have done from writing a paper. The opportunity to do that showed me that there are so many ways that one can learn that are both fun and educational.

The English courses also taught me how powerful the written word and language can be. Words tell so much more than a story. Stories tell about life and the human condition, they bring up the past and people and cultures that are long gone. Literature teaches about the self and the world surrounding the self. From these classes I learned about the world, its people and its history; through literature I learned how we as humans are all related. By writing about what we learn and/or what we believe, we are learning how to express ourselves.

I know that my ability to write and express my ideas, thoughts and knowledge has grown stronger each semester. I have always struggled to put my thoughts on paper in a manner that is coherent and correct according to assignments. I can remember being told numerous times in community college to "organize your

The Course Reflection Project Nicole Schonemann, Emily Metzgar, Andrew Libby, 2015-05-01 Service learning is entering a post initiatory phase At tertiary institutions of all types and sizes service learning programs are common and service learning requirements for graduation are growing in popularity Taken together alongside continued faculty interest in effective teaching these factors have raised the visibility and popularity of service learning Now the greater need in service learning is not to prove the need for or efficacy of service learning but to turn the focus squarely back on practice Following established best practice is not enough instructors also need to reflect on how this fits within the specific context and application of each unique course and service learning partnership While there are many excellent resources that detail best practice and showcase exemplary service learning courses faculty reflection and course revision often goes unmentioned In response to the lack of attention on the role of reflection and course revision we convened groups of faculty from a variety of disciplines to reflect deeply on their courses paying specific attention to obstacles and challenges These conversations were converted to articles for this edited collection each chapter representing the process of reflection and revision and serving as a guide to develop effective practice in varied curricular contexts This text contributes to the body of literature on service learning in a unique and practical manner Faculty teaching or interested in teaching service learning classes would benefit from this text as well as university administrators and community service directors involved in service learning at a programmatic and institutional level This book should be marketed to faculty teaching disciplinary service learning classes and service learning pedagogy classes and administrative offices involved in service learning This could be a supplementary text for graduate level pedagogy courses Higher education institutional libraries would benefit from this text as well as the national and state campus compact offices

Demystifying Critical Reflection Namala Tilakaratna, Eszter Szenes, 2024-01-24 Drawing on Legitimation Code Theory LCT this volume reveals the knowledge practices and language of critical reflection in a range of different subjects making clear how it can be taught and learned Critical thinking is widely held to be a key attribute required for successfully living learning and earning in modern societies Universities now list critical thinking as a key graduate quality and use critical reflection as a way of teaching students how to become reflective and ethical professionals Yet what critical reflection actually involves remains vague in research teaching practice and assessment Studies draw on LCT a fast growing framework for revealing the knowledge practices that enable educational success and the individual chapters focus on a diverse range of contexts across the disciplinary map including education science arts sociology and nursing The book further connects research and practice by presenting in depth analyses of critical reflection and providing practical insights into how LCT can be used to design pedagogic interventions The book offers a rich resource for both scholars and teachers who want to demystify critical reflection and prepare university students for the modern workplace How to Write an Essay William Trego Webb, 1920 Short Papers in Geology and Hydrology Articles 122-172 Geological Survey (U.S.), 1964 Enhancing the Value of Teacher Education Research, 2024-01-22 This book invites us to critically reflect on the value of research in on and for teacher education It explores the nature and role of teacher education research and identifies ways to enhance its value for policy and practice It gathers together studies that deploy a wide range of methodologies including small scale practitioner focused research and large scale empirical studies considering the value of both approaches for the development of teacher education research that is meaningful for practice but also valid and relevant for policy The studies collected in this book were undertaken in different countries and put forward powerful messages for teacher education research in the 21st century The ultimate objective is to contribute to the generation of a knowledge base for teacher education identifying strategies and acknowledging challenges The various arguments presented here can be utilised by teacher education policymakers practitioners and researchers wishing to enhance the role of teacher education research in their own countries and contexts Contributors are Evi Agostini Herbert Altrichter Rinat Arviv Ilanit Avraham Tali Berglas Shapiro Yvonne Brain Charalambos Charalambous Michalis Christodoulou Ina Cijvat Gerry Czerniawski Ricarda Derler Maria A Flores Ulla F rstenberg Conor Galvin Ainat Guberman Mirva Heikkil Tuike Iiskala Fjolla Kacaniku Lisa Maria Lembacher Joanna Madali ska Michalak Aziza Mayo Jonathan Mendels Stephanie Mian Mirjamaija Mikkil Erdmann Hagit Mishkin Jan Morgenstern Helma Oolbekkink Marchand Nazime zt rk Katrin Poom Valickis Elena Revyakina Kari Smith Marco Snoek Vasileios Symeonidis Jullia T lle Triin Ulla Anu Warinowski Heike Wendt and Cinzia Zadra

Handbook of Research on Teaching Diverse Youth Literature to Pre-Service Professionals Hartsfield, Danielle E., 2021-06-25 Perspectives and identity are typically reinforced at a young age giving teachers the responsibility of selecting reading material that could potentially change how the child sees the world This is the importance of sharing diverse literature with today s children and young adults which introduces them to texts that deal with religion gender identities racial identities socioeconomic conditions etc Teachers and librarians play significant roles in placing diverse books in the hands of young readers However to achieve the goal of increasing young people s access to diverse books educators and librarians must receive quality instruction on this topic within their university preparation programs The Handbook of Research on Teaching Diverse Youth Literature to Pre Service Professionals is a comprehensive reference source that curates promising practices that teachers and librarians are currently applying to prepare aspiring teachers and librarians for sharing and teaching diverse youth literature Given the importance of sharing diverse books with today s young people university educators must be aware of engaging and effective methods for teaching diverse literature to pre service teachers and librarians Covering topics such as syllabus development diversity social justice and activity planning this text is essential

Radical Constructivism in Mathematics Education E. von Glasersfeld,1991-06-30

Mathematics is the science of acts without things and through this of things one can define by acts 1 Paul Val ry The essays collected in this volume form a mosaik of theory research and practice directed at the task of spreading mathematical knowledge They address questions raised by the recurrent observation that all too frequently the present ways and means of teaching mathematics generate in the student a lasting aversion against numbers rather than an understanding of the useful and sometimes enchanting things one can do with them Parents teachers and researchers in the field of education are well aware of this dismal situation but their views about what causes the wide spread failure and what steps should be taken to correct it have so far not come anywhere near a practicable consensus The authors of the chapters in this book have all had extensive experience in teaching as well as in educational research They approach the problems they have isolated from their own individual perspectives Yet they share both an overall goal and a specific fundamental conviction that characterized the efforts about which they write here The common goal is to find a better way to teach mathematics The common conviction is that knowledge cannot simply be transferred ready made from parent to child or from teacher to student but has to be actively built up by each learner in his or her own mind
