Read the following passage on advertising and answer the multiple-choice questions that follow.

The Influence of Advertising

1. Advertising was usually seen to make people aware of the goods available in the market. It was as simple as announcing what you had or what was on offer and what you offer or what someone else was selling. Advertising has evolved into a major industry that goes beyond advertising, to promoting and influencing. It is a form of broadcasting.

2. Advertising has become a type of culture with social functions. In the process, it attracts attention from manufacturers and service providers who have an edge over their competitors. Unfortunately, in keeping with the ever-increasing demand of the manufacturers, the advertisers have resorted to creating sensory stimuli and create competition in most of us. This is a warning for harmful products that we are better off without. It goes on our minds, entering us completely. The influence (promoting, influence and other advertisements) target us from a very early age, forming our view of the world as we grow into adults.

3. The reason that the media are primarily in place for good or bad is that very true. If the truth may be told, the media are there to gather a large enough audience, perhaps there is a price community and sell it to the advertisers. The advertisers, on the other hand, are always on the lookout for a target audience to persuade them that the product or service is better than that of the competition.

4. In a nutshell, advertising does nothing more than all the advertisements are filled with images that create emotional and being with material association and create independence and success with communication of objects. Advertising also makes people forget their effect on products (like that of people). Finally, advertising makes relationships. The many benefits (impact) in the world of advertising where products like brands
