Report Of The Commission On Itinerancy 1963:

Irish Travellers Jane Leslie Helleiner, 2000-01-01 Helleiner's study documents anti Traveller racism in Ireland and explores the ongoing realities of Traveller life as well as the production and reproduction of contemporary Traveller collective identity and culture Report of the Commission on Itinerancy Ireland. Commission on Itinerancy, 1963

Housing Contemporary Ireland Michelle Norris, Declan Redmond, 2007-03-11 This book the first comprehensive accessible review of housing in Ireland for many years introduces key housing developments and also reports on the findings of the latest research on the transformation of the sector in the past decade Topics include the impact of the house price boom on wealth and affordability the urban renewal schemes and private rented housing the management of social housing the accommodation of Travellers and homeless people rural housing policy and politics During the past decade Ireland's economic growth has attracted international attention This book analyses the consequences of that growth on housing and serves as a primer to other countries on the complexities of delivering sustainable housing solutions in the face of economic success As such this book will be of interest to students practitioners and policy makers involved in the housing field worldwide and to anyone who wishes to learn more about the causes and effects of Ireland's recent housing boom Racism and social change in the Republic of Ireland Bryan Fanning, 2018-09-30 Now in its second edition Racism and Social Change in the Republic of Ireland provides an original and challenging account of racism in twenty first century Irish society and locates this in its historical political sociological and policy contexts It includes specific case studies of the experiences of racism in twenty first century Ireland alongside a number of historical case studies that examine how modern Ireland came to marginalize ethnic minorities Various chapters examine responses by the Irish state to Jewish refugees before during and after the Holocaust asylum seekers and Travellers Other chapters examine policy responses to and academic debates on racism in Ireland A key focus of the various case studies is upon the mechanics of exclusion experienced by black and ethnic minorities within institutional processes and of the linked challenge of taking racism seriously in twenty first century Ireland

Gypsy Politics and Traveller Identity Thomas Alan Acton, 1997 Relations with the state and with non Gypsies have been central to the shaping of the lived identity of Gypsy people This book examines how the state deals with Gypsies and travellers and how they deal with the state It also provides a comparative study of Gypsy politics in Britain and abroad

Bloody Living Rhona Trench, 2010 This book deals with the process of negotiation with the past in the present through the plays of Marina Carr The title frames the work connoting the path towards destruction and the sense of lethargy acquired along the way The book offers an in depth and extensive reading of Carr's plays In doing so it surveys some of the destructive issues represented in the works and provides a series of social and cultural contexts to which the concerns in the works are related Carr is best known for her trilogy The Mai Portia Coughlan and By the Bog of Cats and more recently Woman and Scarecrow The Cordelia Dream and Marble The plays are regularly concerned with notions of identity in the context of self destruction self estrangement and displacement This book applies Julia Kristeva s theory of abjection to Carr s plays in an effort to structure the loss the author identifies in the works Themes of memory history and myth are examined in the context of these concerns in provocative and confrontational ways Crime, Punishment and the Search for Order in Ireland Shane Kilcommins,2004 'Insubordinate Irish' Micheal O' hAodha,2013-07-19 This book traces a number of common themes relating to the representation of Irish Travellers in Irish popular tradition and how these themes have impacted on Ireland s collective imagination A particular focus of the book is on the exploration of the Traveller as Other an Other who is perceived as both inside and outside Ireland s collective ideation Frequently constructed as a group whose cultural tenets are in a dichotomous opposition to that of the settled community this book demonstrates the ambivalence and complexity of the Irish Traveller Other in the context of a European postcolonial country Not only has the construction and representation of Travellers always been less stable and fixed than previously supposed these images have been acted upon and changed by both the Traveller and non Traveller communities as the situation has demanded Drawing primarily on little explored Irish language sources this volume demonstrates the fluidity of what is often assumed as reified or fixed As evidenced in Irish language cultural sources the image of the Traveller is inextricably linked with the very concept of Irish identity itself They are simultaneously the same and Other and frequently function as exemplars of the hegemony of native Irish culture as set against colonial traditions This book is an important addition to the Irish Studies canon in particular as relating to those exciting and unexplored terrains hitherto deemed marginal Traveller Studies Romani Studies and Diaspora Migration Studies to name but a few 'Tinkers' Mary Burke,2009-07-16 Irish playwright J M Synge created influential but misunderstood representations of travellers or tinkers This work traces the history of the tinker back to medieval Irish historiography and English Renaissance literature and forward to contemporary US screen depictions Critical Perspectives on Hate Crime Amanda Haynes,Jennifer Schweppe,Seamus Taylor,2017-05-15 This book provides a unique insight into the lived realities of hate crime in Ireland and its treatment within the criminal justice system The significance of the Irish case is contextualised within the European and global policy contexts and an overview of hate crime in Ireland both north and south and its differential treatment in each jurisdiction s criminal justice system is offered Presenting empirically grounded analyses of the experiences of commonly targeted identity groups in an Irish context this study also draws upon their exposure to hate crime and challenges encountered in seeking redress Combining theory research and practice this book represents legal social cultural and political concerns pertinent to understanding preventing deterring and combatting hate crime across Ireland It incorporates a variety of perspectives on the hate crime paradigm and addresses many of the cutting edge debates arising in the field of hate studies Contributions from Irish and international academic researchers are complemented by applied pieces authored by practitioners and policy makers actively engaged with affected communities This is a progressive and informed text which will be of great value to activists policy makers and scholars of hate crime and criminal justice Reflections of

Our Past John H. Relethford, Deborah A. Bolnick, 2018-03-26 The rise of the multi billion dollar ancestry testing industry points to one immutable truth about us as human beings we want to know where we come from and who our ancestors were John H Relethford and Deborah A Bolnick explore this topic and many more in this second edition of Reflections of Our Past Where did modern humans come from and how important are the biological differences among us Are we descended from Neandertals How should we understand the connections between genetic ancestry race and identity Were Native Americans the first to inhabit the Americas Can we see evidence of the Viking invasions of Ireland a millennium ago even in the Irish of today Through engaging examination of issues such as these and using non technical language Reflections of Our Past shows how anthropologists use genetic information to suggest answers to fundamental questions about human history By looking at genetic variation in the world today and in the past we can reconstruct the recent and remote events and processes that have created the variation we see providing a fascinating reflection of our genetic past

Risk and Substance Use Susanne MacGregor, Betsy Thom, 2020-02-17 This interdisciplinary collection examines the role that alcohol tobacco and other drugs have played in framing certain groups and spaces as dangerous and in influencing the nature of formal responses to the perceived threat Taking a historical and cross national perspective it explores how such groups and spaces are defined and bounded as well as the processes by which they come to be seen as risky It discusses how issues of perceived danger highlight questions of control and the management of behaviours people and environments and it pays attention to the way in which sanctions and regulations have been implemented in a variety of often inconsistent ways that frequently impact differently on different sections of the population Bringing together a range of case studies drawn from different countries and across different periods of time the chapters collected here illustrate issues of marginalisation stigmatisation human rights and social expectations It is of interest to a diverse audience of historians philosophers human geographers anthropologists sociologists and criminologists interested in substance use and misuse deviance risk and power among other topics

The Right to Roam Dualta Roughneen, 2010-01-08 Nomadic groups and sedentary society have been in conflict throughout the ages and the conflict continues to this day For the most part it is nomadic groups who have been the losers in these conflicts The idea of human rights has traveled around the world in response to some of the great conflicts of our time The Right to Roam Travellers in the Modern Nation State examines the right of nomadic groups to maintain a way of life that is contrary to the drive toward sedentarisation and modernisation If human rights are to exist one approach to the derivation of rights is that they are to exist as protectors of the autonomy of individuals When the autonomy of individuals is threatened by restrictions on their liberty then the protection of human rights is required For Travellers in Ireland restrictions on the freedom to maintain a Travelling lifestyle have consequences for members of the Travelling community The Right to Roam Travellers in the Nation State explores the impact of recent legislation such as the Housing Miscellaneous Provisions Act of 2002 on Travellers in modern Ireland and whether progress driven by sedentary society should be required to include the needs of nomadic groups Social Capital and Enterprise in the Modern State Éidín Ní Shé, Lorelle J. Burton, Patrick Alan Danaher, 2018-02-22 Given the global crises confronting the world today it is important to interrogate the notion of the modern state and to evaluate its effectiveness in providing security and services for its populations including the most disadvantaged and vulnerable This book investigates the modern state's capacity to serve its constituents by examining the organisations that facilitate two key elements of contemporary living social capital and social enterprise These elements are explored in a series of rich case studies located in Australia Ireland and Bangladesh with broader implications for policy and practice in the rest of the world The case studies highlight the growing importance of social enterprise and social entrepreneurship in fostering social capital and in contributing to the idea of the enabling state This book will appeal to researchers policy makers and community leaders working in business education employment pathways homelessness housing local government mental health public administration and refugee resettlement Papers from the 1981 Kilkenny Conference on Poverty , Facing the Other Borbála Faragó, Moynagh Sullivan, 2008-12-18 This collection offers a multi faceted investigation of the critical issue of the creation and place of the Other in Ireland The extraordinarily rapid recent economic development of Ireland has effected a profound transformation in the island's social and cultural life In the process old verities and assumptions concerning the nature of Irish society and culture have been called into question with a whole variety of new challenges coming to light The developments of the last two decades have transformed questions of what and who constitutes the Other within Irish society but in the process older societal faultlines based on gender disability and religious difference have not disappeared and historical processes of Othering continue to play a critical role in influencing and moulding the social contours of the new Ireland of the twenty first century Drawing on a number of different disciplinary perspectives this collection presents a number of key analyses of social and cultural practices and policies that reflect anxieties about and negotiations of these changes examining historical and contemporary representation of fears about the porousness of national borders the increasing racialization of the Irish state through social and juridical proscriptions and the popular and official narrative of progress Irish Education Antonia McManus, 2014-07-07 In this important new work the author analyses the contributions that our Ministers for Education made to the Irish education system between the years 1919 and 1999 Covering the social economic and political realities of the time and taking in the involvement of the OECD what emerges is a picture of how Irish education was shaped and moulded over the course of the twentieth century Home Eoin Ó Broin, 2019-05-06 Thousands are homeless tens of thousands are languishing on social housing waiting lists even more are unable to afford to rent or buy Why is our housing system so dysfunctional Why can it not meet social and affordable housing needs Home Why Public Housing is the Answer examines the structural causes of our housing emergency provides a detailed critique of government housing policy from the 1980s to the present and outlines a comprehensive practical and radical alternative that would meet the housing needs of the many not just the few For three decades Government policy has been marked by an undersupply of social housing and an over reliance on the private market to meet housing needs Housing has become a commodity not a public good The result is a dysfunctional housing system that is leaving more and more people unable to access appropriate secure and affordable homes The answer as argued in this transformative new book lies in establishing a Constitutional right to housing large scale investment in a new model of public housing to meet social and affordable housing need real reform of the private rental sector and regulation of private finance development and land Social Inclusion and the Legal System Gerry Whyte,2002 Urban Life George Gmelch,Petra Kuppinger,2018-01-03 More than half of the world s population lives in cities What are their lives like in very different global and globalizing cities How can urban anthropologists study and understand the diverse and complex experiences of urban dwellers all over the globe The latest edition of Urban Life explores questions about how to study urban lives and examines experiences of urban inhabitants in cities across the globe Authors ask questions such as how can one study the activities in a huge fish market in Tokyo How do elderly residents benefit from urban agriculture in New York City How do people maneuver ever present traffic jams in Istanbul How do low income residents in Cairo manage their lives drawing on neighborhood social networks How do immigrants fight for green spaces in Paris How do families manage transnational ties between New York City and Ecuador The book is organized into six parts Urban Fieldwork Communities Urban Structure Inequality and Survival Immigrants Migrants and Refugees Changing Cities and Current Topics in Urban Anthropology The last part addresses issues at the forefront of anthropological research and broader political debates like environmental justice disability and accessibility and access to water supplies Each part includes an introduction and each chapter is preceded by notes about its context and relevance The rich ethnographic content of the chapters makes them highly accessible to students while addressing relevant topics and themes
