

American Civil War Research Paper

The deadliest war in American history is known as the American Civil War killing nearly 620,000 soldiers and a mass amount of civilians. The War Between the States was fought between Southern slave states and the United States federal government. Southern states formed a group called the Confederacy, which went against the beliefs of the Union. Jefferson Davis of the Confederate States of America and Abraham Lincoln sought different views on slavery.

Lincoln believed that all slaves should be emancipated and advocated the restoration of the Union. The Fugitive Slave Law of 1850 supported the belief that all slaves who escaped, once captured were to be returned to their owners. This led to the 'War Governors' Conference on September 25, 1862 which included the meeting of thirteen Union governors who conversed between many different aspects of the war. The importance of this meeting routed from the war and the downfall that Abraham Lincoln was witnessing in the United States. As they discussed many reasons to abolish slavery, they believed that a substantial win would help the announcement of the proclamation. Slavery had a significant impact on society in a moral and economical aspect. The money had "strengthened the American economy in the north and south.

" Economically slaves who worked on plantations changed the agricultural society. The shift went from the agricultural society to a more advanced industrial society. This then caused the downfall of the Confederate States of America. "Slaves were known as contraband, or illegal imports to represent the captured slaves, and with the impact of Lincoln, he was able to present the theory of emancipation that took away the view of slaves as property and allowed the states to control the territory within their borders. When the proclamation was first issued, it did not free all slaves. Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland and Missouri had not succeeded from the union. The collapse of the Confederate States of America forced slaves to free away from the plantations.

The emancipation of the rebellion areas was essential to end the ongoing secession that was going on in the United States. Lincoln wanted to "endorse the emancipation on the state level. " The belief of equality towards all individuals is one aspect that Lincoln promoted. At the beginning of the Civil War, Lincoln's main goal was to preserve the union, and in time the theory of emancipation came into effect. Lincoln supported the rights of each individual and the "equality of all humans that demanded and abolishment of slavery. " Releasing slaves all at once was not something that would have been immediately effective, so Lincoln approached the situation in a structured manner. After the Union had won at Antietam, he set fourth a deposition to the Confederate states stating that if the return of the Union was not met, that the remaining slaves would be free.

Understanding Civil War: Africa Paul Collier, Nicholas Sambanis, 2005 This publication is part of a two volume set which builds upon previous World Bank research into the causes and characteristics of civil war onset particularly the model developed by Paul Collier and Anke Hoeffler regarding the relationship between violent political conflict and economic development This volume considers the variables identified in the Collier Hoeffler model and applies them to a set of case studies from a range of African countries and then goes on to trace the process of conflict escalation in order to draw conclusions as to why civil war is likely to occur The publication seeks to advance theoretical and empirical knowledge of civil war in order to help further the objective of developing appropriate policy interventions Another volume with case studies from a range of non African countries is available separately ISBN 0821360493 Military Interventions in Civil Wars Kamil C. Klosek, 2021-09-28 This book examines the motivations of military interventions in civil wars with a focus on the role of foreign direct investment FDI and the arms trade The book assumes a state centric view of international relations whereby states remain the dominant actors on the world stage It breaks away from the conventional wisdom that military interventions for economic interests are a product of domestic corporate lobbying and instead argues that states intervene to protect but not advance existing corporate investments for national strategic interests The work introduces new concepts of military interventions proxy interventions and indirect interventions which are determined by arms trade relationships between the permanent members of the United Nations Security Council UNSC and recipient countries and utilizes insights from principal agent theory whereby the permanent members of the UNSC delegate military interventions in civil wars to other countries The book concludes by examining the transformative effect of FDI on the willingness of a state to intervene militarily in a civil war focusing on the case of China in Sub Saharan Africa Provided that the current positive trends in FDI and arms trade persist we are likely to see more and not fewer military interventions in the future This book will be of much interest to students of civil wars military interventions security studies and International Relations Armed

Organizations and Political Elites in Civil Wars Erwin van Veen, 2024-06-03 This book analyses under what conditions and with what developmental effects armed organizations shift their coercive profile during civil wars with a focus on the recent conflicts in Syria and Iraq The work begins with an operationalisation of the term political settlement focusing on how power is organized in fragile and conflict affected countries and then uses this operationalization to analyse the political settlements of contemporary Syria and Iraq including their breakdown and transformation during recent civil wars of 2011 today in Syria and 2014 17 in Iraq It subsequently examines why and how elite factions have used armed organizations in times of conflict This approach links an understanding of the broad evolution of power relations at the national level with the specific effects of the use of armed organizations on such relations It argues for a shift from assigning fixed labels to armed organizations during civil wars to studying their coercive profile in a dynamic fashion i e how armed organizations behave in terms of their use of threats and coercive force The book introduces five profiles of coercive behaviour that demonstrate how the same organization can behave very differently at various points in time One of these the hybrid coercive profile fills a gap in the existing civil war typology of organized armed violence by opening up the possibility of elite factions deliberately combining collaborative and competitive modes of behaviour As an evidence base the book provides in depth analysis of the origins evolution and operations of four armed organizations that have acted under a hybrid coercive profile during the Syrian and Iraqi civil wars the Syrian Kurdish People s Defence Forces the Eagles of the Whirlwind of the Syrian Social Nationalist Party the Iraqi Kurdish Peshmerga and the Badr Organization By connecting the concepts of political settlement and civil war and applying them to specific armed organizations operating in Syria and Iraq the book offers new insights into this nexus This book will be of much interest to students of civil wars conflict studies Middle Eastern Studies and International Relations The World Bank Research Program, 2005-2007 ,2008 This pocket sized reference on key environmental data for over 200 countries includes key indicators on agriculture forestry biodiversity energy emission and pollution and water and sanitation The volume helps establish a sound base of information to help set priorities and measure progress toward environmental sustainability goals Conflict, Security and Development Paul Jackson, Danielle Beswick, 2014-11-07 This textbook draws on academic theory field research and policy developments to provide an overview of the connections between security and development before during and after conflict This 2nd edition is revised and updated to take account of changes that have occurred in both policy and academic arenas which are relevant to students and practitioners in this area In an interdependent world it is often argued that the challenges of underdevelopment and insecurity have global implications This textbook charts an accessible course through these complex debates providing a comprehensive introduction for those encountering these issues for the first time The main aims of the revised edition are to set out how thinking on conflict security and development has changed over time and continues to evolve to explore the consequences of these changes particularly for the theory and practice of development and security promotion to introduce a range of case studies from across the globe in order to explore the implications of a combined approach to security and development The authors are experienced in both the theory and the practice of this field and illustrate the links between conflict security and development with practical examples drawing on key case studies from the past twenty years Each chapter is informed by student pedagogy and the book will be essential reading for all students of development studies war and conflict studies and human security and is recommended for students of international security and IR in general

out and engages with some of the key policies practices and paradigms of external intervention in the case of state support and reconstruction Many assumptions about statebuilding have been reconsidered in the wake of Iraq and ongoing problems in other states such as Afghanistan Bosnia and Kosovo Rather than being a regional survey or a policy orientated lessons learned book this collection explores the broader framing of policy goals statebuilding practices and the consensus on the need for Western states and international institutions to be engaged in this policy area The volume is divided into three parts the first engages with some of the key policy frameworks and conceptual issues raised by recent statebuilding interventions the second considers core statebuilding practices and the third reconsiders statebuilding paradigms more broadly The essays open up debate and critical discussion in the field at a time when many advocates of extending statebuilding intervention suggest that the complex nature of the problems of non Western states and societies mean that it will inevitably be contradictory and limited in its results

Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and gripping novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
