The Role of Pharmacy Technician

Pharmacy professional (Pharmaceutical specialists) work in drug store related activities under the supervision of drug specialists. Pharmaceutical specialists can work in a variety of settings ranging from doctor's facilities, pharmaceutical makers and machine programming organizations among other places. The roles played by the specialists in their different settings also vary depending on the allocation of the overall supervisor.

The roles may include the dissemination of drugs to customers in a retail setting which cannot be done without a doctor's authority. Some of the particular roles played by the technician may include preparing medications such as arrangement of solutions where required and taking pills off the shelf, performing telephone related activities such as answering the phone, and attending to customer related services such as through addressing consultations by the customers (Moini 10).

Besides these responsibilities, the pharmaceutical specialists are also tasked with authoritative responsibilities such as administering to and accessing client files from electronic systems. In addition to this, the technician performs any other roles that may come up on the doctor's request (Mizner 17). In a doctor's facility, the responsibilities for the pharmaceutical technician are more

APPLICATION ON COMPETITION LAW AND INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY POLICY IN INDIAN PHARMA SECTOR

Dr. Gurudas Bhalchandra Natekar, 2022-01-01. I take this proud privilege and honor to introduce this book on Indian Pharma sector, Study On Application On Competition Law And Intellectual Property Policy In Indian Pharma Sector, written by Dr. Gurudas B. Natekar, which is based on his Doctoral Research Work. The Indian pharmaceutical industry currently tops amongst India's science-based industries with a wide range of capabilities in the complex field of drug manufacture and technology. The Indian Pharma sector ranks very high amongst all other countries in terms of technology, quality and wide range of medicines that are manufactured. The pharmaceutical and chemical industry in India is extremely fragmented, market with a severe price competition and government price control. The pharmaceutical industry in India meets around 70% of the country's demand for bulk drugs, drug intermediates, pharmaceutical formulation, chemicals, tablets, capsules, orals and injectables. The Indian pharmaceutical industry is known for its cost effectiveness and competitiveness. The nature of diseases in India is varied and the market is ever expanding, and a number of Indian companies have made acquisitions in the global market. The advent of pharmaceutical product patent recognition has changed the ground rules for Indian enterprises, and this has resulted in need of new investments and research and development in the Pharma sector. The takeover code of 2011 is a timely and progressive regulation that would facilitate investment and attract investors. The changes in the takeover code made by SEBI have turned domestic drug companies into an attractive acquisition target. These takeovers have now put Indian pharmaceutical sector on the global map. The government's Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) policy in respect of pharma sector has been liberal and several changes are being witnessed in the domestic market. One of the major changes that the government and the regulators are looking for is the changes in the takeover code. This change is attempted based on the recommendations of Mr. C. Achuthan Committee. Dr. Gurudas B. Natekar has indeed made sincere efforts to throw light on various important aspects of pharma sector and takeover code. He has carried out research study titled Study On Application On Competition Law And Intellectual Property Policy In Indian Pharma Sector. He has made a thorough and meaningful review of literature pertaining to the proposed takeover code on the Indian pharma sector. Valuable inputs are obtained from pharma units, manufacturers of pharma products and clinicians to accomplish the set research objectives. The whole research work has been conveniently converted to seven chapters, namely: Introduction, Literature Review, Research Methodology, Regulations of Pharma Industry in India, Profile of respondents and Analysis of data, Summary Findings, Conclusions, Suggestions and scope for further research. Dr. Gurudas B. Natekar holds a Master of Pharmacy (Tech) by Research, Bombay

University Thesis Colorimetric Methods of Assays for some Drugs He is an industrialist serving as a Chairman Managing Director of Natekar Group of Industries He is a writer and publisher of several books and articles and has authored more than 24 books He is a multi faceted personality and has immensely contributed to the society through different fields like education administration sports social cultural political and so on Few of them to mention are 1 Former Chairman of Dnyanprassarak Mandal Mapusa and present member of Managing Committee Institution imparting education from KG to PG 2 Former Chairman of Mapusa Urban Co operative Bank of Goa Limited and 3 Two times Congress Candidate from Mapusa Constituency I congratulate Dr Gurudas B Natekar on having made available this publication to teachers students research scholars and policy makers This publication will certainly enrich the existing store of knowledge in the pharma sector I pray God to grace him all the success in his future endeavors
