Carl Jackson is a motivated and diligent sophomore at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. He is currently a Mechanical Engineering major with a minor in Mathematics. He has a strong track record of excellence in both computational mathematics as well as the engineering field, having finished all of his high school-level math courses by the time he reached 6th grade. Afterwards, he took advanced and invariant calculus courses at his local community college. As the winner of the Stonebrood County Science and Engineering fair two years in a row from 2016-2017, he also has many plans for the future which involve combining sustainable energy with hands-free innovation.

Carl graduated from Roosevelt State High School in 2015 with a perfect 4.0 GPA. He served as president of the Debate Team and the Road Scholars from his sophomore to senior year in college. During his time in leadership, he helped to restructure the organizational system and balance the budget through careful accounting and recordkeeping. During his junior year, he also took a service trip to Guatemala, where he helped to rebuild houses and help construct temporary shelter for citizens affected by hurricanes. This experience helped to shape his interest in mechanical engineering in college.

Upon matriculating at the University of Michigan, Carl immediately started his involvement in community service and on-campus engagement. He worked as an election volunteer to encourage fellow students to vote, and also helped to organize on-campus debates to discuss pertinent issues to student life. Additionally, he is an active member of the Young Engineers club, utilizing his academic skills and experience to help mentor elementary and middle school students interested in the sciences. He look forward to using his experiences to obtain a career in industry where he can help further sustainability and efficiency in the workplace.

Mintzes, Emily M. Walter, 2020-02-23 This book explores evidence based practice in college science teaching It is grounded in disciplinary education research by practicing scientists who have chosen to take Wieman s 2014 challenge seriously and to investigate claims about the efficacy of alternative strategies in college science teaching In editing this book we have chosen to showcase outstanding cases of exemplary practice supported by solid evidence and to include practitioners who offer models of teaching and learning that meet the high standards of the scientific disciplines Our intention is to let these distinguished scientists speak for themselves and to offer authentic guidance to those who seek models of excellence Our primary audience consists of the thousands of dedicated faculty and graduate students who teach undergraduate science at community and technical colleges 4 year liberal arts institutions comprehensive regional campuses and flagship research universities In keeping with Wieman s challenge our primary focus has been on identifying classroom practices that encourage and support meaningful learning and conceptual understanding in the natural sciences The content is structured as follows after an Introduction based on Constructivist Learning Theory Section I the practices we explore are Eliciting Ideas and Encouraging Reflection Section II Using Clickers to Engage Students Section III Supporting Peer Interaction through Small Group Activities Section IV Restructuring Curriculum and Instruction Section V Rethinking the Physical Environment Section VI Enhancing Understanding with Technology Section VII and Assessing Understanding Section VIII The book s final section IX is devoted to Professional Issues facing college and university faculty who choose to adopt active learning in their courses The common feature underlying all of the strategies described in this book is their emphasis on actively engaging students who seek to make sense of natural objects and events Many of the strategies we highlight emerge from a constructivist view of learning that has gained widespread acceptance in recent years In this view learners make sense of the world by forging connections between new ideas and those that are part of their existing knowledge base For most students that knowledge base is riddled with a host of na ve notions misconceptions and alternative conceptions they have acquired throughout their lives To a considerable extent the job of the teacher is to coax out these ideas to help students understand how their ideas differ from the scientifically accepted view to assist as students restructure and reconcile their newly acquired knowledge and to provide opportunities for students to evaluate what they have learned and apply it in novel circumstances Clearly this prescription demands far more than most college and university scientists have been prepared for Political Psychology of Turkish Political Behavior Cengiz Erisen,2016-04-14 The primary motivation for this book is to focus on something crucial that is missing in Turkish political science well founded theories on the Turkish voter and empiricism in scholarly research Given the absence of such theories one could ask what then the best model is for explaining a Turkish citizen s vote choice and political behaviour and what schools of thought Turkish political science has Unfortunately it is not possible to offer a satisfactory response to either question at this point and among the clear deficiencies in the current literature the primary one is the lack of a robust model explaining how Turkish citizens form their political attitudes engage in political participation or cast their votes With these important questions in mind this book aims to generate an interest in the theoretical and methodological tools that one can employ to conduct research contributing to the needs of the literature particularly in political behaviour and political psychology This book expands our understanding about the processes and the mechanisms of Turkish political behaviour and contributes to the foundations of theory building in the literature This book was published as a special issue of Turkish Studies Body Image Across Health and Disease - A Bio-Psych-Social Perspective Katrin Giel,Florian Junne,Catherine Preston,Anouk Keizer,2020-07-28 Proceedings of IAC-TLEI 2015 collective of authors,2015-07-05 Resources in Women's Educational Equity , Biographical Annals of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania ,1903 College Entrance Counselor Louis K.
