The Making of Heritage Camila Del Marmol, Marc Morell, Jasper Chalcraft, 2014-11-20 This volume explores the process of heritage making and its relation to the production of touristic places examining several case studies around the world Most existing literature on heritage and tourism centers either on its managerial aspects the tourist experience or issues related to inequality and identity politics This volume instead establishes theoretical links between analyses of heritage and the production and reproduction of places in the context of the global tourist trade The approach adopted here is to explore the production of heritage as a complex process shaped by local and global discourses that can have a deep impact on several policies and legislations Heritage itself has now become not only a global discourse but also a global practice which may eventually lead to the use of heritage as a field for hegemony From these perspectives heritage making may be incorporated in the world economy mainly through the global tourism trade The chapters in this book stress the need for identifying the intrinsic political implications of these processes relocating their study in political economic and social settings Combined with a diversified set of theoretical approaches and research methods guided by a common thematic rationale The Making of Heritage is at the forefront of current debates about heritage

The regional travel guide for Il-Gudja (Malta) ,2025-09-25 Eating Traditional Food Brigitte Sebastia,2016-11-18 Due to its centrality in human activities food is a meaningful object that necessarily participates in any cultural social and ideological construction and its qualification as traditional is a politically laden value This book demonstrates that traditionality as attributed to foods goes beyond the notions of heritage and authenticity under which it is commonly formulated Through a series of case studies from a global range of cultural and geographical areas the book explores a variety of contexts to reveal the complexity behind the attribution of the term traditional to food In particular the volume demonstrates that the definitions put forward by programmes such as TRUEFOOD and EuroFIR and subsequently adopted by organisations including FAO which have analysed the perception of traditional foods by individuals do not adequately reflect this complexity The concept of tradition being deeply ingrained culturally socially politically and ideologically traditional foods resist any single definition Chapters analyse the processes of valorisation instrumentalisation and reinvention at stake in the construction and representation of a food as traditional Overall the book offers fresh perspectives on topics including definition and regulation nationalism and identity and health and nutrition and will be of
