Report On State Of World Population:

State of World Population 2024 United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA),2024-04-17 This year's report takes the 30th anniversary of the 1994 International Conference on Population and Development as an opportunity to reflect on how far we have come in achieving sexual and reproductive health and rights for all While the report celebrates the significant gains made it also considers who has been left out of that progress arguing that a more equitable future for all requires a renewed commitment to empowering those furthest behind

State of World Population 2025 United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA),2025-06-10 In 2025 the global fertility rate is making headlines In many countries birth rates are declining leading policymakers to sound the alarm over the potential for population collapse In an attempt to mitigate the demographic changes they face some governments are employing drastic measures to persuade women to have more children Despite this fact millions of people around the world are unable to have the number of children they want In every country regardless of total fertility rate the most consequential reproductive decision a human being can make when whether and with whom to have a child is being undermined UNFPA's new State of World Population report argues that the real crisis we are facing is not a problem of demographic change It is a crisis of reproductive agency
