Representations Of Technology In Science Fiction For Young People:

Representations of Technology in Science Fiction for Young People , Representations of Technology in Science Fiction for Young People Noga Applebaum,2009-09-10 In this new book Noga Applebaum surveys science fiction novels published for children and young adults from 1980 to the present exposing the anti technological bias existing within a genre often associated with the celebration of technology Applebaum argues that perceptions of technology as a corrupting force particularly in relation to its use by young people are a manifestation of the enduring allure of the myth of childhood innocence and result in young adult fiction that endorses a technophobic agenda This agenda is a form of resistance to the changing face of childhood and technology s contribution to this change Further Applebaum contends that technophobic literature disempowers its young readers by implying that the technologies of the future are inherently dangerous while it neglects to acknowledge children s complex yet pleasurable interactions with technology today The study looks at works by well known authors including M T Anderson Monica Hughes Lois Lowry Garth Nix and Philip Reeve and explores topics such as ecology cloning the impact of technology on narrative structure and the adult child hierarchy While focusing on the popular genre of science fiction as a useful case study Applebaum demonstrates that negative attitudes toward technology exist within children s literature in general making the book of considerable interest to scholars of both science fiction and children s literature   Child and Youth Agency in Science Fiction Ingrid E. Castro,Jessica Clark,2019-10-15 Child and Youth Agency in Science Fiction Travel Technology Time intersects considerations about children s and youth s agency with the popular culture genre of science fiction As scholars in childhood studies and beyond seek to expand understandings of agency in children s lives this collection places science fiction at the heart of this endeavor Retellings of the past narratives of the present and new landscapes of the future each explored in science fiction allow for creative reimaginings of the capabilities movements and agency of youth Core themes of generation embodiment family identity belonging gender and friendship traverse across the chapters and inform the contributors readings of various film literature television and virtual media sources Here children and youth are heterogeneous and agency as a central analytical concept is interrogated through interdisciplinary intersectional intergenerational and posthuman analyses The contributors argue that there is vast power in science fiction representations of children s agency to challenge accepted notions of neoliberal agency enhance understandings of agency in childhood studies and further contextualize agency in the lives voices and cultures of youth
