AN OVERVIEW OF HUMAN TRAFFICKING IN SUB-SAHARAN AFRICA

Abstract

Over the past few years, there has been an increase in the smuggling of migrants and trafficking in human beings to and from Africa, as well as within the continent. Evidence suggests that virtually no countries in Africa are immune from trafficking. These countries are all affected as countries of source, destination, transit or a combination of all three. While human trafficking has a devastating impact on individual victims, its impact also undermines the safety and security of affected nations as it is a global health risk and it fuels the growth of organised crime.

Trafficking is one of the largest profit makers for organized crime in Africa. (It is arguably the lowest risk activity for criminal groups due to widespread corruption, lack of legislation and low rates of prosecution). Most forms of trafficking are to be found in Africa, some of these being: men, women and children are trafficked for farm labour and domestic work; women and children are trafficked for commercial sexual exploitation (as prostitutes; for pornography, for pedophile rings; for the under age sex tourism trade); women are trafficked to South Africa to be 'wives' in the mining industry; young girls are sold as child brides; children are trafficked to be used for various activities as child soldiers and are also trafficked for use in ritual sacrifice. These patterns of trafficking take place both within and across countries.

Six key priorities have been identified by The Round Table for Africa's Program of Action (2006-2010) on Crime and drugs as impediments to security and development in Africa for dealing with human trafficking on national, regional and international levels.
