 In Books and Religious Devotion Allan Westphall presents a study of the book collecting habits and annotation practices of Thomas Connary an Irish immigrant farmer who lived in New Hampshire in the latter half of the nineteenth century Connary led a pious life that revolved around the use annotation and sharing of religious books His surviving annotated volumes provide a revealing glimpse into the utility of books for a common reader and they show how one remarkable eccentric reader turned religious books into near icons Through a careful excavation of book adaptations and enhancements Westphall gives us insight into the range of opportunities provided by the material book for recording and communicating Connary's religious fervor The study also investigates the broader nineteenth century cultural setting in which books are seen as testimonies of personal faith and come to function as instruments of social interaction in both domestic and public spheres Underlying Connary's many and varied interactions with books is his belief that working in books as physical objects can be a devout exercise instrumental in human salvation The Cornell Alumni News ,1902 Report of the Commissioner of Education United States.
