Educational Assessment in Latin America Sue Swaffield, Sally M Thomas, 2019-07-23. This collection presents educational assessment research from Latin America, adding to a relatively small but growing body of research considering educational assessment and evaluation issues in this large region. The predominance of Chile reflects its early, highly centralized education system and the fact that it adopted national testing before other Latin American countries. It was also an early participant in international assessment programmes. Other countries have followed the trend of implementing national testing and, to a lesser extent, participating in international surveys. The complementary development of technical expertise in quantitative research methods has enabled extensive analysis of the large data sets generated by these testing and assessment programmes. Taken together, the evidence reported provides a means not only of reviewing educational quality issues in Latin America but also of facilitating comparisons that allow the context specificity of equivalent research conducted in western developed countries to be considered. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Assessment in Education: Principles, Policy, and Practice. The Whole-Faculty Study Groups Fieldbook Dale W. Bonnici, 2020-12-15 Today the entire success of a school seems to be the responsibility of the principal and the teachers The thesis of this book is that principals and teachers can only take a school so far because of other factors that also impact on the success or failure of a school 1 Federal state local and district regulations and policies 2 the physical plant and location of the school 3 parents 4 students 5 the non teaching staff The book explores all these but also has an underlying theme Money It is a cliché that if a school has more money it will have better results Monies allocated to education do have an impact but poverty level and income inequality have an equal if not greater impact on school success on the national state and local levels Principals and teachers have absolutely no control on poverty and income inequality which negatively impact schools regardless of how dedicated and hard working the pedagogical staff After exploring the other factors impacting on school success the book will look at teachers and principals not from the viewpoint of what they can do but the viewpoint of their limitations Much of this is economic leading to high staff turnover and therefore a lack of continuity in a school Fostering
