Think About Your Purpose - Not “selling yourself” or “getting in,” but simply being yourself-- which usually means writing about yourself in human, rather than superhuman, terms. For example, if your transcript reveals that you are a stellar student of French, you might write about the time a Parisian pointedly responded in English to your request in French for directions to the Louvre.

Focus - Instead of generalizing your experience, for example saying something like, “I enjoy sports”, be as specific as you can be. Write about the thrill of catching a fly ball deep to centerfield just before it became a home run, or of a Little League career spent waiting for someone, anyone, to hit the ball to your position so that you could stop studying the grass and watching the butterflies.

Use Precise And Descriptive Language - Imagine that each word you write costs you a dollar, and that you don't have unlimited funds. Instead of writing “On a yearly basis, we would spend five hours driving to the lake, where I never gave up the hope of meeting the boy that would be my Prince Charming,” write “Every August, we trekked to Lake Apponaug, where I always hoped to meet my Prince Charming.”

Give Your Essay Momentum - Make the parts work together and move toward a thoughtful conclusion. In an essay about the summer you spent working in a marine research laboratory, a paragraph on the unreliable bus that took you there each day should be eliminated.

Use Correct Grammar, Spelling, and Punctuation - Don't distract your reader from what you're stating by stating it incorrectly. Misspellings, typos, and grammatical errors--such as subjects that don't agree with verbs--make the reader's task more difficult and suggest that you don't care much about the impression you make. Although nobody's perfect, strive for perfection on your application. Unfortunately, your reader may interpret your mistakes, no matter how innocent, to be signs of laziness, indifference, or even dishonesty.

Give Your Essay Momentum - Make the parts work together and move toward a thoughtful conclusion. In an essay about the summer you spent working in a marine research laboratory, a paragraph on the unreliable bus that took you there each day should be eliminated.

Research in Education, 1971-12      Lawyering Europe Antoine Vauchez, Bruno de Witte, 2013-03-13

While scholarly writing has dealt with the role of law in the process of European integration so far, it has shed little light on the lawyers and communities of lawyers involved in that process. Law has been one of the most thoroughly investigated aspects of the European integration process, and EU law has become a well-established academic discipline with the emergence more recently of an impressive body of legal and political science literature on European law in context. Yet this field has been dominated by an essentially judicial narrative focused on the role of the European courts, underestimating in the process the multifaceted roles lawyers and law play in the EU polity, notably the roles they play beyond the litigation arena. This volume seeks to promote a deeper understanding of European law as a social and political phenomenon, presenting a more complete view of the European legal field by looking beyond the courts and at the same time broadening the scholarly horizon by exploring the ways in which European law is actually made. To do this, it describes the roles of the great variety of actors who stand behind legal norms and decisions, bringing together perspectives from various disciplines: law, political science, political sociology, and history, to offer a global, multi-disciplinary reassessment of the role of law and lawyers in the European integration process.

This book presents research on biomass pretreatments, which are a fundamental part of bioethanol fuel production to make biomass more accessible. This book also includes an introductory section on the bioethanol fuels. Bioethanol Fuel Production Processes I: Biomass Pretreatments is the first volume in the Handbook of Bioethanol Fuels Six Volume Set. The primary pretreatments at the macro level are the biological, chemical, hydrothermal, and mechanical pretreatments of the biomass. It also has an introductory section on the biomass pretreatments at large for bioethanol fuel production The major pretreatments at the micro level are the enzymatic and fungal pretreatments of the biomass as the biological pretreatments acid alkaline ionic liquid and organic solvent pretreatment pretreatments of the biomass as the chemical pretreatments steam explosion and liquid hot water pretreatments of the biomass as the hydrothermal pretreatments and milling ultrasonic and microwave pretreatments of the biomass as the mechanical pretreatments The first volume also indicates that a wide range of pretreatments stand alone or in combination with each other fractionate the biomass to its constituents of cellulose lignin and hemicellulose and improve both sugar and bioethanol fuel yield making this bioethanol fuel more competitive in relation to crude oil and natural gas based fossil fuels This first volume is a valuable resource for the stakeholders primarily in the research fields of energy and fuels chemical engineering environmental science and engineering biotechnology microbiology chemistry physics mechanical engineering agricultural sciences food science and engineering materials science biochemistry genetics molecular biology plant sciences water resources economics business management transportation science and technology ecology public environmental and occupational health social sciences toxicology multidisciplinary sciences and humanities among others

The "plainly Revealed" Word of God? Helen Dare, Simon Patrick Woodman, 2011 In January 2009 an international group of Baptist theologians met in Cardiff UK for a colloquium to explore the theory and practice of Baptist hermeneutics Drawing primarily from the British Baptist community the group's work was enhanced by insights from participants from the USA and Eastern Europe Participants brought a diversity of scholarly and pastoral interests to the colloquium and through presentation and discussion explored together the nature of Baptist hermeneutics The resulting volume addresses five core thematic areas The first section surveys the way in which Baptists have engaged with the Bible both in their early history and more recent past Section two analyses some specific examples of Baptist hermeneutics in practice while the third section turns attention to an exploration of theoretical approaches to the hermeneutical task in Baptist contexts The problem of how to negotiate interpretative difference within Baptist reading communities is addressed in the fourth section Finally concluding responses to the project from two non Baptist theologians challenge both contributors and readers to consider the wider implications of the volume for contemporary Baptist life
