de l'acte doit être développé au cœur de la théorie de l'organe pour démontrer que l'organisation internationale est la personnification juridique d'une collectivité d'États dotée d'un système représentatif et n'est que cela. La qualité de partie un trait constitutif et de membre d'une organisation internationale ne prive l'État d'aucun des attributs de la souveraineté dans l'ordre international. Au contraire, la faculté d'investir un sujet de droit de compétences nouvelles est précisément un attribut de la souveraineté. L'organisation est tout entière une création des États membres. Leur souveraineté n'inhibe pas le processus de personnification de l'organisation qui en retour ne la confisque pas la souveraineté et la relativité des rapports juridiques demeurent les principes régulateurs de l'ordre international.
