Competitive Strategies in Life Sciences Basanta Kumara Behera, Ram Prasad, Shyambhavee Behera, 2020-10-21

Tailoring of biomolecules using protein engineering technology and host cells culture techniques are among the most sophisticated and elegant achievements of modern applied life sciences in which the basic fundamentals biotechnology are applicable for the development and manufacturing of biologics and other related bio molecules for a hurdle free life with good health. A majority of biologics derived from genetically modified host cells in the current market are bio formulation such as antibodies, nucleic acid products and vaccines. Such bio formulations are developed mainly in two steps i.e. upstream process and downstream process. The first volume of this series begins with the latest information on how the classical stepwise host cells culture mammals, animals, plants and bacteria methodology has been changed to fully continuous or partially continuous host cells culture process in order to economise the biopharmaceutical products manufacturing process. In addition, this volume narrates a brief history on conceptual development of new thoughts in designing biotechnology industries for commercial production of variety of therapeutic proteins with structural modification on the basis of clinical requirements. The readers will feel excited by going through the latest discovery and development in applied life sciences for designing innovative biomolecules for health care with utmost safe. The most interesting part of this volume is newly developed concept on bioprinting. It explains how to design and fabricate animate objects by fusing or depositing material of interest in the form of powders, solid dusts, metal liquid or even living cells or tissues by layers to produce 3D objectives. The first volume ends with the latest information on the current trend in biologics market, market dynamic drives and opportunities with challenges.

The Practice of Narrative: Storytelling in a Global Context Michael

Heitkemper-Yates, 2019-01-04. This volume was first published by Interdisciplinary Press in 2016. Story can have a power and presence that stretches beyond the vast unspeakable boundaries of time and space and yet story can also have a delicate impermanence that lasts no longer than a moment before it flashes back into the void. Some stories can bring people together, other stories can tear entire civilisations apart. Stories express and enliven experience, stories project and describe the desires and anxieties of existence. Stories can be narrated through written word and physical gesture through graphic illustration and musical orchestration through the spatial dynamics of architecture and the abstract poetics of conjecture. For these and myriad other reasons, storytelling and narrative are central to humanity and the study of these practices is central to an understanding of what it means to be human. In this volume, the many narrative dimensions, media and critical approaches to storytelling are explored with the common intention of comprehending and appreciating the global role that story plays in the articulation of human experience.
