

I. Three Key Economic Questions

*How should goods and services be produced?

-How should we use our resources to produce goods and services?

-ex) Should we produce electricity with oil, solar power, or nuclear power?

-ex) Is education best delivered through public schools or private schools? (AL Accountability Act)

-ex) Should we produce food on large corporate farms or small family farms?

*There are countless ways to create all of the things we want and need, and they all require land, labor, and capital

-These factors of production can be combined in different ways

Prentice Hall's Guide to E-Business for Economics Prentice-Hall Staff, Marian B. Wood, 2001-06 Economics
Arthur O'Sullivan, Steven M. Sheffrin, 1998 The most successful first edition of a principles of economics text in Prentice Hall history The authors build a framework for economic reasoning on the Five Principles of Economics then move the student from memorization to understanding by applying these simple intuitive and memorable principles repeatedly throughout the text in an active learning environment Economic Experiments Economic Detective Using the Tools The goal is for students to not only think like economists but to act like economists The economic analysis is rigorous yet accessible to the average student The organization is modern and balanced with equal weight given to Classical long run comes first Keynesian and Monetarist philosophies with an effort to show how they are linked Designed for that majority of students who will not go on to other economics courses the text also functions as a solid foundation for more advanced courses PHLIP supported
