The Hope Reports University of Oxford. Hope Dept. of Zoology,1910 Mobilization for Violent Politicized Islam
Hawa Noor,2024-08-05 This book focuses on the involvement of some Kenyans in al Shabaab an affiliate of Al Qaeda based in Somalia despite their country s relative stability compared to Somalia It discusses the origin of the Kenyan state and how colonization created social stratification that benefited elites closer to the center while excluding marginalized groups at the periphery The argument is that this pattern still prevails despite attempts to enhance equality such as the adoption of a new constitution in 2010 promoting the devolution of power and resources The persistence of this condition it is argued is what initially handed al Qaeda and later al Shabaab opportunities for mobilization enabled by its creative politicization of religion The heavy handed tactics employed by security forces under the auspices of the War on Terror further catalyzed this process resulting in more Kenyan individuals joining the group Using an historical and political process approach the book shows how the interplay of structural conditions and al Shabaab s mobilization strategy linked with individuals motivations for joining the group Based on individuals own narratives about their participation the latter is empirically demonstrated to be non linear incorporating motivations beyond rational ones contrary to the overemphasis on ideology in the literature on participation in groups similar to al Shabaab This book will of much interest to students of political violence African politics Islamic studies and International Relations Annual Report ... Kenya. Yuan, 2025-09-18 Food security is an important guarantee for world peace and development and has a bearing on the sustainable development and future destiny of humankind The 2023 State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World report released by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations FAO shows that between 691 and 783 million people worldwide were hungry in 2022 Although the increase in the number of hungry people in the world has slowed down there are still many regions of the world that are sinking deeper into the food crisis If left unchecked the world will not be on track to meet the Sustainable Development Goal of eradicating hunger by 2030 Food security continues to be a global challenge Food security is based on the food system and when the food system is under stress the level of food security is reduced This stress comes from a variety of factors including land use change Land use change and its impacts have become a hotspot and frontier of global change research With the development of human society the structure depth and intensity of land use are constantly changing which directly affects the issue of food security There is a close relationship between regional food security and land use change This Research Topic focuses on land use intensity change and its implications for food security African Handbook of Climate Change Adaptation Nicholas Oguge, Desalegn Ayalew, Lydia Adeleke, Izael da Silva, 2021-05-20 This open access book discusses current thinking and presents the main issues and challenges associated with climate change in Africa It introduces evidences from studies and projects which show how climate change adaptation is being and may continue to be successfully implemented in African countries Thanks to its scope and wide range of themes surrounding climate change the ambition is that this book will be a lead publication on the topic which may be regularly updated and hence capture further works Climate change is a major global challenge However some geographical regions are more severely affected than others One of these regions is the African continent Due to a combination of unfavourable socio economic and meteorological conditions African countries are particularly vulnerable to climate change and its impacts The recently released IPCC special report Global Warming of 1.5°C outlines the fact that keeping global warming by the level of 1.5°C is possible but also suggested that an increase by 2.0°C could lead to crises with crops agriculture fed by rain could drop by 50% in some African countries by 2020 and livestock production could damage water supplies and pose an additional threat to coastal areas The 5th Assessment Report produced by IPCC predicts that wheat may disappear from Africa by 2080 and that maize a staple will fall significantly in southern Africa Also arid and semi arid lands are likely to increase by up to 8% with severe ramifications for livelihoods poverty eradication and meeting the SDGs Pursuing appropriate adaptation strategies is thus vital in order to address the current and future challenges posed by a changing climate It is against this background that the African Handbook of Climate Change Adaptation is being published It contains papers prepared by scholars representatives from social movements practitioners and members of governmental agencies undertaking research and or executing climate change projects in Africa and working with communities across the African continent Encompassing over 100 contributions from across Africa it is the most comprehensive publication on climate change adaptation in Africa ever produced

,1988 Monitoring and Evaluation in Health and Social Development Stephen Bell, Peter Aggleton, 2016-02-01 New approaches are needed to monitor and evaluate health and social development Existing strategies tend to require expensive time consuming analytical procedures The growing emphasis on results based programming has resulted in evaluation being conducted in order to demonstrate accountability and success rather than how change takes place what works and why The tendency to monitor and evaluate using log frames and their variants closes policy makers and practitioners eyes to the sometimes unanticipated means by which change takes place Two recent developments hold the potential to transcend these difficulties and to lead to important changes in the way in which the effects of health and social development programming are understood First there is growing interest in ways of monitoring programmes and assessing impact that are more grounded in the realities of practice than many of the results based methods currently utilised Second there are calls for the greater use of interpretive and ethnographic methods in programme design monitoring and evaluation Responding to these concerns this book illustrates the potential of interpretative methods to aid understanding and make a difference in real people s lives Through a focus on individual and community perspectives and locally grounded explanations the methods explored in this book offer a potentially richer way of assessing the relationships between intent action and change in health and social development in Africa Asia Europe and the Americas Research Series ,1984 Women Farmers of Malawi

David Hirschmann, Megan Vaughan, 1984 Trading the Fruits of the Land Tjalling Dijkstra, 2018-12-20 First published in 1997 this volume contributes to the knowledge for the trade of vegetables fruits and tubers so called horticultural commodities As African policy makers try to keep pace with new developments in private food trade they require knowledge of the structures of private trade systems and the factors that govern their long term development The study analyses the structure and development of horticultural marketing channels in Kenya It is based primarily on surveys of some 500 farmers in four districts and 750 horticultural traders in 18 market places Commercial horticultural farmers domestic traders export traders agents facilitators marketing cooperatives and processors are all reviewed The study devotes special attention to the efficiency of collecting wholesalers and to the development of rural assembly markets It develops a model which can elucidate vertical differentiation processes in the Kenyan horticultural channels The analyses show that marketing channel theory can be of great relevance to the developing world The proposed vertical differentiation model can aid in predicting future changes in horticultural marketing systems in Kenya as well as in other African countries University
