

Persuasive Censorship Research Paper

Imagine spending hours writing your heart out about how you feel about something. You pour out your heart and as you proof it you get emotional because of how proud you are in your work. You tear up a little and feel your heart tighten up. You're ready, you submit it online to a blog. A few hours later you get what you been waiting for all day. A notification via email explaining that your story was published. You go to admire your work, as you're reading it you don't even recognize it. Everything empowering you said was erased, it says the care minimum about how you feel. Hiding all the truth to your story! This isn't rare at all. Actually it happens almost every day. Censoring can be defined as reviewing any form of writing and deleting...show more content...

If you're a parent every day you send your kid off to school. Unable to monitor them and protect them. You leave them in the hands of strangers, in the hopes that if something happens you know right away about it. In one news article Port Saint Lucie High school went under code yellow. A man in his mid-20's made a threat online to the enrolled students. Of course the students there have an understanding of what's happening. But what about you as the parent? You go online to find out more information but you see nothing. This a great example of censoring. Let's say the district doesn't want to look bad so they censor any information posted online about this event. So now you can't completely understand what happened at your child's school that day. This is what censoring does, it takes out details to protect someone or something and leaves people not able to know the
