Residential Services Practice Manual:

Residential Services Practice Manual, 2007 Providing Residential Services for Children and Young People

Catherine Street, 2018-08-09 First published in 1999 this timely and challenging volume assesses children's residential services in the UK in the wake of the Residential Provision and the Children Act 1989 using extensive interviews with providers of residential therapeutic services. A difficult task in any circumstances issues discussed with telling and convincing detail include the financial difficulties of these services staff morale which children have need of residential services the effects of policy reform rates of emotional and behavioural disorders the costs of services and long term therapeutic units. This exemplary study is comparable to Sir William Utting's 1997 report People Like Us adding new dimensions and insights to the current debate. It should be widely read and discussed by policy makers and practitioners concerned with child care and protection.

The Social Worker's Practice Manual Neil Thompson, 2023-08-21 An essential handbook for students and experienced social workers alike this practical guide filters out the jargon and sets out what you really need to know. 30 easy to follow chapters delve into topics ranging from holistic thinking to effective record keeping all rooted in Neil Thompson's extensive hands-on experience. Complicated subjects such as cultural sensitivity and managing conflict are discussed thoughtfully and pragmatically helping you understand the roots of tricky situations and find effective solutions. Each section successfully combines theory and practice to give a holistic view of social work that can be tailored to help each unique client. Over 45 years of experience distilled into one manual for success.

Group Homes for People with Intellectual Disabilities Tim Clement, Christine Bigby, 2010 Draws on a unique 3 year action research study that surveyed daily life and residents' experiences. Provides evidence based strategic and practical suggestions for ways that staff and organisations can improve quality of life for residents. Authors from La Trobe University Australia Colorado

Resources in Education, 1998 Residential Care of Children Mark E. Courtney, Dorota Iwaniec, 2009-03-25 For centuries societies have relied upon residential care settings to provide homes for children and for much of that period a debate has raged over whether such settings are appropriate places for children to be raised In recent years this debate has taken on an international dimension as human rights policies have called into question the legitimacy of residential care of children Unfortunately the ideological fervor that usually accompanies such discussions prevents a more nuanced understanding of the reasons that countries continue to make use of residential care Residential Care of Children Comparative Perspectives fills major gaps in knowledge about residential care and is intended to inform debates within and between nations about the appropriate use of such institutions Eleven country specific chapters written by child welfare experts from around the world provide an in depth understanding of the historical development of residential care the current state of affairs and predictions for the future Chapters describe how residential care is defined in each country how it has evolved over time factors that have contributed to the observed pattern of development of residential care and potential concerns for the future An integrative chapter presents a critical cross national perspective identifying common themes and analyzing underlying factors Seeking to explain rather than cast judgment Residential Care of Children Comparative Perspectives will be fruitful reading for policymakers program administrators advocates practitioners and scholars interested in creating better services for vulnerable children and youth Journal of Human Services Abstracts ,1984 From

Hearings, Reports and Prints of the House Committee on Education and Labor United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor,1978 Planning For Life Liam Concannon,2005-08-15 This book traces the development of services for people with disabilities and discusses how much things have really changed for today s service users since the days of asylums It also assesses whether the policy of involvement such as that outlined in Valuing People is achievable in practice or simply places unrealistic burdens on professionals and service users Based on findings from original research and interviews the author argues that involving people with learning disabilities in service planning is difficult to achieve successfully and is currently to a large extent tokenistic This area of challenging practice and emotive debate is brought to life by the voices of service providers carers and the service users themselves and illustrates the realities of working with people with learning disabilities Planning for Life is valuable and informative for students of social work social care and social policy and will be enlightening reading for those working with adults with learning disabilities in policy and in practice Therapeutic Residential Care for Children and Youth James K Whittaker,Jorge Fernandez del Valle,Lisa Holmes,2014-09-21 Definitive and wide ranging this international review of therapeutic residential child care covers the latest research on how it works how much it costs compared with the outcomes it delivers and how to deliver this effective form of care for the most troubled children in public care Clevenger's Practice Manual of New York ,1928 SNI Documents 1979 ,1980 Geriatric Residential Care Robert D. Hill,Brian L. Thorn,John Bowling,Anthony Morrison,2013-06-17 This book s main goal is to examine the concept of residential care from a psychological perspective The chapter authors espouse a psychological approach to long term residential care and an effort is made throughout the text to present a model of care that encompasses the whole individual Since psychologists are being increasingly asked to provide consultation to long term residential care facilities the need for psychologically based care models has become apparent This text offers assistance in developing and maintaining residential care environments that maximize quality of life and personal well being in the presence of declining physical and emotional resources that are associated with the vicissitudes of living into advanced aging Geriatric Residential Care is divided into four parts Part I addresses psychological and social issues facing the frail elderly who are candidates for or are living in residential care settings Part II addresses issues in the assessment of individuals in residential care Part III highlights the design and execution of intervention strategies in residential care Part IV addresses how organizational aspects of residential care contexts can optimize the quality and meaningfulness of care Clearinghouse Review ,1981 Oversight Hearing on the Juvenile Justice and
