Research in Education, 1974

In Defence of Cosmopsychism Khai Wager, 2025-10-16 Is the cosmos itself conscious and could our minds be aspects of its vast overarching consciousness In this ambitious and original study Khai Wager defends cosmopsychism the view that the universe as a whole is conscious and that individual minds like ours derive from this cosmic consciousness Wager situates cosmopsychism within what he calls the landscape of fundamental consciousness bringing it into productive dialogue with closely related views such as panpsychism panqualityism and perennialism The result is a fresh perspective on one of philosophy's deepest puzzles the nature and origin of consciousness The problem of phenomenal consciousness asks how subjective experience can emerge from non-conscious matter Fundamental approaches reject the idea that consciousness arises from non conscious matter instead proposing that it is present at the most basic level of reality Panpsychism the most prominent such view holds that all fundamental microphysical entities are conscious This however leads to the combination problem how do billions of micro level minds combine to form distinct macro level minds like ours Cosmopsychism offers a radical alternative rather than being formed from a combination of micro level instances of consciousness individual minds derive from a larger cosmic level consciousness As a result cosmopsychism sidesteps the combination problem entirely However a new and equally pressing challenge arises the derivation problem how do individual minds derive from the cosmic consciousness Through rigorous and insightful analysis Wager argues that cosmopsychism can navigate these problems and offers a compelling alternative to both physicalism and panpsychism As such this first book length treatment of cosmopsychism makes an illuminating contribution to debates about the nature of reality and our place within it
