

Polynomial Functions : Graphs and Derivatives. pp. 4-14 of 8.024

- 1) Describe the relationship between the degree of a polynomial function and its graph. Compare different types (cubic, and various degrees and combinations) of polynomial functions here. Consider, if a polynomial function is of degree n , then the graph has n turns at minimum. A cubic function has 2 minimum points (turning points) and maximum points. Degree 4 means 3 turns (minimum points, Degree 5 means 4 turns, 4 turning points). Degree 6 means 5 turns (4 min and 1 max turning points, etc).
- 2) Describe the relationship between the leading coefficient of a polynomial function and its graph. Their sign affects whether the function is concave up or down at its minimum and at its maximum. If the leading coefficient is positive, the graph will be concave up at its minimum (just as x^2 is) and concave down at its maximum (just as $-x^2$ is). If the leading coefficient is negative, the graph will be concave down at its minimum (just as $-x^2$ is) and concave up at its maximum (just as x^2 is).

3) Sketch a possible graph for each function described below. Graph possible

a) a polynomial function of degree 2 with a positive leading coefficient		b) A fourth degree polynomial with a negative leading coefficient
c) A cubic polynomial function with a negative leading coefficient		d) A 5th degree polynomial function with a positive leading coefficient

4) Different lower degrees of a polynomial function that could fit each of these four graphs, as well as the sign of the leading coefficient.

a) Degree: 3 Leading Coefficient: positive		b) Degree: 5 Leading Coefficient: positive
