Europe, 1200-1500 AD Ricardo Córdoba de la Llave, Javier López Rider, 2022-10-06 This volume brings together works on the development of scientific and technical knowledge in Europe between the 13th and 16th centuries with a special focus on the Iberian Peninsula. These works, which rely heavily on the evidence provided by the written record, pay particular attention to the content of recipe books and technical treatises from the 15th and 16th centuries. The volume addresses issues such as manuscript and technical recipe book analysis, archaeological investigation of production areas, and archaeometric analysis, presenting a holistic and comprehensive perspective of technical knowledge during the Middle Ages. It highlights different approaches and perspectives in the analysis of medieval technical and technological knowledge in order to arrive at equally broad and complementary conclusions.

March of the Pigments Mary Virginia Orna, 2022-05-23 Take a colorful walk through human ingenuity. Humans have been unpacking the earth to use pigments since cavemen times. Starting out from surface pigments for cave paintings, we've dug deep for minerals, mined oceans for colors, and exploited the world of plants and animals. Our accidental fumbles have given birth to a whole family of brilliant blues that grace our museums, mansions, and motorcars. We've turned waste materials into a whole rainbow of tints and hues to color our clothes, our food, and ourselves. With the snip of a genetic scissor, we've harnessed bacteria to gift us with greener blue jeans and dazzling dashikis. As the pigments march on into the future, who knows what new and exciting inventions will emerge. Mary Virginia Orna, a world-recognized expert on color, will lead you through an illuminating journey exploring the science behind pigments. Pausing for reflections en route to share stories around pigment use and discoveries informed by history, religion, sociology, and human endeavour, this book will have you absorbing science.
