The term artificial intelligence (AI) has a range of meanings, from specific forms of AI, such as machine learning, to the more far-fetched idea of AI that meets criteria for consciousness and sentience.

As technology advances and the use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) technology is adopted in various fields, there are increasing efforts to develop AI technology for healthcare applications. Within the class of AI technology, Machine Learning (ML) systems are being developed that draw from statistics, mathematics, rule-based systems and biological systems to create solutions that can adapt and learn, thus reducing manual burden. Private companies are building ML into medical decision-making, pursuing tools that support physicians. It is predicted by physician researchers that by familiarity with ML tools that analyze big data will be a fundamental competency for the next generation of physicians, which improves care in areas such as radiology and anatomical pathology.
