1. Chapter 10: Vegetation

Plants

What is vegetation?

Vegetation = communities of living flora

What is a community?

- Community of different plant species living together in a particular area (e.g. forest, grassland, desert, etc.)
- Different communities have different characteristics

Vegetation Types

Vegetation types are the different communities of plants and animals that live together in a particular area

Types of Vegetation

There are many different types of vegetation. Some are found in the tropics, some in the temperate zone, and some in the arctic. The different types of vegetation are determined by the climate, the soil, and the amount of water available.
