Democracy Jason Brennan, Hélène Landemore, 2022 Around the world faith in democracy is falling Russia Turkey and Venezuela have moved from flawed democracies to authoritarian regimes Brexit and the rise of far right parties show that even stable Western democracies are struggling Partisanship and mutual distrust are increasing What if anything should we do about these problems In this accessible work leading philosophers Jason Brennan and Hélène Landemore debate whether the solution lies in having less democracy or more Brennan argues that democracy has systematic flaws and that democracy does not and cannot work the way most of us commonly assume He argues the best solution is to limit democracy's scope and to experiment with certain voting systems that can overcome democracy's problems Landemore argues that democracy defined as a regime that distributes power equally and inclusively is a better way to generate good governance than oligarchies of knowledge To her the crisis of representative democracy comes in large part from its glaring democratic deficits The solution is not just more democracy but a better kind which Landemore theorizes as open democracy
