TO UNLOAD BARREL — Pull bolt rearward carefully until bullet tip clears chamber.

TO MAGAZINE LOAD — Simply grasp magazine front and rear between thumb and forefinger and pull magazine from rifle. Load cartridges into magazine. When magazine is full, push it into the rifle. Push magazine forward until it is locked in place. (If the magazine is not locked in place, it will not hold the cartridges.)

TO UNLOAD MAGAZINE — Remove magazine from rifle and carefully slide out cartridges. Extra magazines may be carried for fast reloading.

SIGHT ADJUSTMENT — Factory sights on Remington high power rifles are targeted at 100 yards and carefully adjusted at factory for average shooters. If your rifle does not appear to shoot accurately it does not necessarily mean that sights are improperly aligned. Individual differences in eyesight or method of shooting may require sight adjustment. Before attempting to readjust sights it should be realized that the greater the angle of sight the more difficult it becomes to determine where rifle is shooting. (Point of impact.) A consistent method of holding rifle, aiming and squeezing trigger will aid in obtaining a small group size. Different sight settings are required for each cartridge type, bullet type and weight, barrel length, each range and wind conditions and, most likely, each individual shooter.

To test rifle for accuracy place large target in safe area at desired range. (Before testing at a longer range it is advisable to fire a few rounds at 50 yards.) At this range, bullets will generally hit somewhere on target. (Shots from a prone or sitting position, giving body and elbow solid support. Fire from a kneeling position, using arms and legs as support.) Shoot carefully and deliberately. If group are at desired point, sights are correctly adjusted. If not, you should adjust sights.

If shots are too high, loosen elevation screw and lower rear sight. If shots are too low, rear sight should be raised. If rifle shoots left, rear sight (Fig. 3) should be moved right. Should rifle shoot to right, move rear sight to left. Turn windage screw to loosen right leaf. Always move rear sight in direction you want rifle to shoot.

Information about trajectory or ballistics of your favorite load may be found in the Remington Firearms and Ammunition Catalog. A free copy may be obtained from Remington dealers or by writing to Remington Arms Co., Inc., 222 Boston Ave., Bridgeport, Conn. 06600.

CLEANING AND CARE — Caution. Make sure rifle is empty of live ammunition before cleaning. To make cleaning of barrel and bolt easier remove bolt. Use a good petroleum solvent for cleaning of parts.

CLEANING OF BARREL — Use lightly oil, soft cloth and clean gun brush to scrub barrel bore and chamber very lightly. Wipe dry and re-oil very lightly. To prevent CLEANING OF BOLT — Brush bore of bolt in chamber shooting direction. Wipe dry and re-oil very lightly. To prevent undue wear, lubricate cam surfaces at rear of bolt — top and bottom. Additional care and cleaning of bolt parts can be done, if necessary.
