Inside High School Reform Jordan E. Horowitz, California Academic Partnership Program, 2005 What happens when some of the lowest performing high schools in the state of California make a commitment to reform themselves This book goes inside the reform efforts of 28 high schools where educators collaborated to fundamentally change expectations for students in effect to prepare all students for postsecondary education By challenging the status quo teachers and administrators set out to strengthen their delivery of services so that all students especially those traditionally denied access to college would leave their care with more options for college and for life Reported here are the conclusions from formal evaluations over the past ten years of high school reform shepherded by the California Academic Partnership Program CAPP CAPP schools are each funded for three to five years with grants of about 100 000 a year to make fundamental changes for their students As these schools discovered not all changes are equally valuable but some are simply essential In the words of the educators themselves and through the perspectives of CAPP advisors who monitored the programs Inside High School Reform lays out some of the apparently universal lessons of making the reform changes that matter Making Community Connections Connie L. Knapp, Orton Family Foundation. Community Mapping Program, 2003 Making Community Connections The Orton Family Foundation Community Mapping Program is designed to bring teams of teachers and their students together with community members to study a problem a resource a condition any matter of interest and importance to the community The school work includes gathering and examining existing information discovering new facts through field investigation and mapping the resource using GIS GPS tools Not only do the students meet and work with community mentors and experts who participate in the classroom and help with the field studies they also typically hold public forums to gather input on the resource and their work At the end of the semester or project the students hold a public forum to present their work in a variety of forms including video conferences speeches and presentations reading of narratives display of hand drawn maps GIS maps etc providing a body of research to the community which can be used to address immediate concerns and help plan for the future The use of the word mapping in the name of the program indicates the importance of and the commitment to the use of GIS GPS mapping technology The Orton Family Foundation Community Mapping Program has found that the use of technology and particularly this mapping technology excites students and provides a powerful incentive to participate However the program this book and place based education in general call for more than just the mapping of resources they entail a more inclusive and integrative look at the world we all live in Invariably the Community Mapping Program makes more clearly visible the connections of the many and varied factors influencing or affecting the particular object of study Concepts of sustainability responsibility integration and the larger picture find their way into classroom discussions and are then mapped in a variety of ways The materials in Making Community Connections have been constructed to provide a solid foundation and flexible framework for original projects created and developed by students their teachers and their communities allowing explorations and investigations of places and problems of interest and concern to them Book jacket Mental State Understanding: Individual Differences in Typical and Atypical Development Daniela Bulgarelli, Anne Henning, Paola Molina, 2017-09-13 The current book addresses the development of mental state understanding in children with typical and atypical population and reports new suggestions about the way to evaluate it and to support it through training The presented frame is multifaceted In respect to typical populations the role of maternal reflective functioning language communication and educational contexts has been deepened and the association with internalizing externalizing behaviors performances in spatial tasks and pragmatics has been addressed as well As to atypical populations deficits in mental states understanding are reported for children with different developmental disorders or impairments as the agenesis of the corpus callosum Down Syndrome preterm birth Autism Spectrum Disorder hearing impairment and personality difficulties such as anxiety Overall the papers collected in our book allow a better understanding of the mechanisms influencing mental state understanding and the effects of mental state comprehension on development
