Children, Schools, And Inequality Doris R Entwisle, 2018-03-05 Educational sociologists have paid relatively little attention to children in middle childhood ages 6 to 12 whereas developmental psychologists have emphasized factors internal to the child much more than the social contexts in explaining children's development Children Schools and Inequality redresses that imbalance It examines elementary school outcomes e g test scores grades retention rates in light of the socioeconomic variation in schools and neighborhoods the organizational patterns across elementary schools and the ways in which family structure intersects with children's school performance Adding data from the Baltimore Beginning School Study to information culled from the fields of sociology child development and education this book suggests why the gap between the school achievement of poor children and those who are better off has been so difficult to close Doris Entwistle Karl Alexander and Linda Olson show why the first grade transition how children negotiate entry into full time schooling is a crucial period They also show that events over that time have repercussions that echo throughout children's entire school careers Currently the only study of this life transition to cover a comprehensive sample and to suggest straightforward remedies for urban schools Children Schools and Inequality can inform educators practitioners and policymakers as well as researchers in the sociology of education and child development Equivalence and Norms Tables for Selected Reading Achievement Tests (grades 4, 5, 6) Peter G. Loret, Educational Testing Service, 1975 Family-School Links Alan Booth, Judith F. Dunn, 2013-10-31 Based on the presentations and discussions from a national symposium on family school links held at the Pennsylvania State University this volume brings together psychologists sociologists educators and policymakers studying the bidirectional effects between schools and families This topic the links between families and schools and how these affect children's educational achievement encompasses a host of questions each of key social and educational significance How far does parental involvement in schools affect children's experiences and achievement at school What explains the great differences between schools families and communities in the extent of such involvement Are these differences a matter of school practices or do they reflect much broader social and cultural divisions What is the nature of the impact schools have on children and their families How can family school partnerships be fostered in a way that helps children The chapter authors consider these questions and related issues present different perspectives highlight various aspects of the issues and suggest widely differing answers This volume's goal is to provide the reader with current information on what is known about family school community links and to provoke new ways of thinking about these links and their implications for children's education and well being Course of Study in Reading for Grades 1 to 6 ... Fresno. Board of education, 1927 Resources in Education, 1997 James S. Coleman Dr Jon Clark, Jon Clark, 2005-08-10 James S Coleman was one of a distinguished generation of sociology students who passed through the Columbia Sociology Department in the 1940s and 50s This book critically debates his work and his contribution to society and the social sciences

more generally It consists of 18 major papers by 20 authors from six countries on a range of themes The volume is framed by an extended editorial introduction reflecting on the five year exchange of correspondence between James Coleman and the editor together with two of Coleman s own works
