Recent Developments In Foresight Methodologies Complex Networks And Dynamic Systems:

Recent Developments in Foresight Methodologies Maria Giaoutzi, Bartolomeo Sapio, 2012-11-28 Foresight is an area within Futures Studies that focuses on critical thinking concerning long term developments whether within the public sector or in industry and management and is something of a sub section of complexity and network science This book examines developments in foresight methodologies and relates in its greater part to the work done in the context of the COSTA22 network of the EU on Foresight Methodologies Foresight is a professional practice that supports significant decisions and as such it needs to be more assured of its claims to knowledge methodology Foresight is practiced across many domains and is not the preserve of specialized futurists or indeed of foresight specialists However the disciplines of foresight are not well articulated or disseminated across domains leading to re inventions and practice that does not make best use of experience in other domains The methodological development of foresight is an important task that aims at strengthening the pool of the tools available for application thereby empowering the actors involved in foresight practice Elaborating further on methodological issues such as those presented in the present book enables the actors involved in foresight to begin to critique current practice from this perspective and thirdly to begin to design foresight practice The present trends towards methodological concerns indicates a move from given expert predicted futures to one in which futures are nurtured through a dialogue among stakeholders The book has four parts each elaborating on a set of aspects of foresight methodologies After an introductory section Part II considers theorizing about foresight methodologies Part III covers system content issues and Part IV presents foresight tools and approaches

Workshop on Future Directions in Critical Infrastructure Modeling and Simulation Nabil R. Adam,2009 Systems and Innovation Research in Transition Jakob Edler,Rainer Walz,2024-09-25 In the last decades it has become more and more imperative for our societies and for decision makers in all areas of society to understand the dynamics through which innovation systems develop and through which socio technical systems transform themselves As both innovation and transformation are strongly intertwined it has equally become imperative to analyse their dynamics as well as their interplay This open access volume reflects on the research fields that have developed in the last five decades to do exactly that It defines and delineates research on systems and innovation as encompassing the scientific study of first the conditions dynamics and impacts associated with the generation and uptake of innovations and second the development and transformation of functional systems satisfying essential needs such as the provision of energy or water Further the area of Systems and Innovation Research SIR is characterised by problem and stakeholder oriented research We chose five decades as time frame because we noted that roughly 50 years ago a number of research institutes dedicated to SIR were founded and the SIR area started to grow significantly We present a systematic history of nine selected fields within the area of SIR Innovation policy Innovation indicators Foresight Policy Evaluation Technology Assessment Production Paradigms Renewable Energies Energy Efficiency Water Use We also present a conceptual framework to understand the processes by which the research fields have developed This allows to draw general lessons as to what drives fields throughout their development and how their role vis vis policy businesses and societies changes over time It also allows to speculate about future challenges and trends in the SIR area This is important because if anything the need to govern transformation through innovation will further grow in the future and with it the need to understand the underlying dynamics

Theories, Methods, Practices, and Fields of Digital Social Research Gabriella Punziano, Felice Addeo, Angela Delli Paoli, 2024-07-08 The digital in the form of technologies scenarios objects processes and relational and interactional structures is increasingly becoming central to understanding culture society human experience and the social world It permeates our society's practices symbols and shared meanings and it makes old distinctions such as the one between online and offline real and virtual and material and immaterial obsolete It also introduces digitally native objects of research such as cyber bullying and digital identities which have a direct impact on mainstream sociological problems Improving and Enhancing Scenario Planning Megan M. Crawford, George Wright, 2025-02-12 This book presents a contemporary view of the approaches and theories that inform global scenario planning and foresight science providing practical recommendations for improving scenario development processes Its insights bridge the gap between last century s foundations and this century s innovations Knowledge, Information and Creativity Support Systems: Recent Trends, Advances and Solutions Andrzej M.J. Skulimowski, Janusz Kacprzyk, 2016-02-25 This volume contains some carefully selected papers presented at the 8th International Conference on Knowledge Information and Creativity Support Systems KICCS 2013 which was held in Krak w and Wieliczka Poland in November 2013 In most cases the papers are extended versions with newer results added representing virtually all topics covered by the conference The KICCS 2013 focus theme Looking into the Future of Creativity and Decision Support Systems clearly indicates that the growing complexity calls for some deeper and insightful discussions about the future but obviously complemented with an exposition of modern present developments that have proven their power and usefulness Following this theme the list of topics presented in this volume include some future oriented fields of research such as anticipatory networks and systems foresight support systems relevant newly emerging applications exemplified by autonomous creative systems Special attention was also given to cognitive and collaborative aspects of creativity Estimating Impact Alexander Kott, Gary Citrenbaum, 2010-09-15 Sociological theories of crime include theories of strain blame crime on personal stressors theories of social learning blame crime on its social rewards and see crime more as an institution in conflict with other institutions rather than as in vidual deviance and theories of control look at crime as natural and rewarding and explore the formation of institutions that control crime Theorists of corruption generally agree that corruption is an expression of the Patron Client relationship in which a person with access to resources trades resources with kin and members of the community in exchange for loyalty Some approaches to modeling crime and corruption do not involve an explicit simulation rule based systems Bayesian networks game theoretic approaches often based on rational choice theory and Neoclassical Econometrics a rational choice based approach Simulation based approaches take into account greater complexities of interacting parts of social phenomena These include fuzzy cognitive maps and fuzzy rule sets that may incorporate feedback and agent based simulation which can go a step farther by computing new social structures not previously identified in theory The latter include cognitive agent models in which agents learn how to perceive their en ronment and act upon the perceptions of their individual experiences and reactive agent simulation which while less capable than cognitive agent simulation is adequate for testing a policy s effects with existing societal structures For example NNL is a cognitive agent model based on the REPAST Symphony toolkit Governance and Public Management Charles Conteh, Thomas J. Greitens, David K. Jesuit, Ian Roberge, 2014-05-09 The key difference between success and failure for most governance systems is adaptation specifically the ability to resolve the existing social cultural economic and environmental challenges that constrain adaptation Local regional and national systems differ in how they are designed to organize effective participation and create innovative ideas for missions goals strategies and actions They also differ in how they build the effective coalitions needed to adopt guide and protect strategies and actions during implementation and how to build competence and knowledge to sustain implementation This book presents the strategic foundations for government s role in fostering and adapting to societal transformation in a volatile world It shifts the focus of the discipline from an overtly retrospective analysis to a prospective analysis incorporating the role of foresight techniques and instruments Above all it stimulates debate about the practical implications of governance as an emergent future oriented framework of public management This challenging book aims to facilitate dialogue and discussion between academics and practitioners and encourage advanced students to take a new perspective on Public Management during these volatile times
